House Votes PO 133 Million More

Washington, June 25 (AP)—The House has voted the Post Office Department an extra 133 million dollars for next fiscal year, on the understanding that postal services won't be seriously curtailed during the period.

The money supplements the $3,192,000,000 previously provided by Congress to operate the department during the 12 months beginning July 1.

Postmaster General Summerfield had asked an extra $149,500,000, saying some postal services otherwise would have to be curtailed. Summerfield mentioned a possible halt to Saturday mail deliveries.

The 133 million was voted without opposition after appropriations committee members told the House no serious service curtailments would have to be made if that sum were granted. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Gas ranges were regarded as an innovation at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876.

SEAGOYNT REVIEW — Crewmen of the minelayer Apollo stand at attention as the royal yacht Britannia, carrying Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, steams by in the North Sea.

Coast Guard Will Check Crafts On Area Waters

A Coast Guard mobile boarding team from New York will spend the summer working throughout six eastern states on lakes and rivers under Federal jurisdiction where boating activity is heavy but usually inaccessible to established Coast Guard units, it was announced today.

The team will check pleasure craft for compliance with Federal laws requiring safety equipment, documentation, and numbering in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Vermont. They will also give advice regarding safety practices, seamanship, and navigation.

Every possible assistance will be rendered to boats found in distress. Portions of the itinerary will be announced from time to time.

Use Trailer

For this assignment, four Coast Guard enlisted men will have a panel truck and a trailer-borne outboard motorboat. Their 14-foot aluminum light-weight craft will be equipped with a 32 horsepower outboard motor capable of speeds up to 30 knots (approximately 35 miles per hour).

The unit for the past few weeks has been undergoing special training under the direction of Captain Frank K. Johnson, USCG, Captain of the Port of New York. As part of their indoctrination, they have been performing boarding duties in Flushing Bay and Long Island Sound in the greater New York city area.

Rear Admiral Henry C. Perkins, USCG, Commander, Third Coast Guard District, said he hopes this program will help to reduce marine disasters and result in happier boating for the pleasure boating public. Last year this boating public numbered 25 million citizens nationwide. Similar teams will be working throughout the United States.

$1,700,000 Bid For O&W Engines

New York, June 25 (AP)—Individual bids totaling $1,700,000 were made today in Federal Court for 37 Diesel engines and proceeded were begun before Judge Sylvester J. Ryan for the sale of the defunct New York, Ontario & Western Railroad.

Bids for the railway system itself were to be opened by the court later in the day.

Central Leads Bidding

Leading bidder for the Diesel engines was the New York Central system, which bid a total of $1,177,000 on 20 of the locomotives.

The locomotives were offered in three groups, comprised of nine 2,700 horsepower Diesels, seven 1,500 horsepower locomotives and 21 1,000 horsepower switching locomotives. It was in the latter group that the New York Central made its high bid for 20. A bid of $61,000 was made for the Northern Pacific Railway for the remaining locomotive in that group.

In the first group bidding, Harold Gottfried of (4671 Fieldstone road) The Bronx, did a total of $155,000 for seven of the nine freight locomotives, and the National Metal & Steel Corp. offered $63,000 for the remaining two.

In bidding on the second group, the Erie Railroad offered $154,000 for four of the seven locomotives, and bids totaling $92,000 were made for the remaining three by Hyman-Michaels Co. No address was announced for the company.

Judge Ryan was expected to rule on the locomotive bids during the afternoon session after which bids for the O & W system will be opened.

Houtteman Optioned

Baltimore, June 25 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles optioned pitcher Art Houtteman to Vancouver today on 24-hour recall. Departure of the 29-year-old right-hander, whose earned-run average for 81.3 innings batted to 14.1, reduces the Baltimore pitching staff to nine. "Houtteman needs steady work to sharpen up his breaking stuff," said Manager Paul Richards. "If he corrects this deficiency he will be brought back up without delay."

Woman, Son Are Slain in Battle Of Wife-Traders

Terre Haute, Ind., June 25 (AP)—A gun battle between a photographer and a truck driver who had traded wives killed the photographer's wife and her son early today and wounded two others.

State police and sheriff's officers searched a wooded area just south of West Terre Haute for Thomas Whitaker, 47-year-old truck driver, believed injured in the duel.

Whitaker's former wife, Mrs. Alma Martin, 38, was killed by a shotgun blast in the chest in the shooting at her home near the woods. Her son, Jack Whitaker, 10, was killed by shots in the stomach and chest.

Arm Is Shattered

The woman's present husband, Stuart Martin, 49, a well known photographer with studios in Terre Haute and Evansville, was taken to Union Hospital in fair condition with a wound in the left leg. His stepdaughter, Regina Whitaker, 9, was seriously wounded. Her left arm was shattered.

Martin said he believed Whitaker was cut by flying glass before fleeing the house. He said Whitaker broke into the house at 2:45 a. m.

Blast Effects Are Reported in Areas Monday Afternoon

Police received several calls shortly before 4 p. m., yesterday indicating that effects of a blast were felt in various sections of the city.

Brewster Victor In First Round On Chairmanship

San Diego, Calif., June 25 (AP)—Frank W. Brewster of Seattle won the first round in his fight to retain the chairmanship of the western conference of teamsters but still faces two possible moves against him.

He was reappointed chairman by Dave Beck, international president of the union, at the opening session of the conference's annual meeting yesterday.

The reappointment, announced in a message from Beck, was greeted with a standing ovation by most of the 500 delegates.

One of the possible moves against Brewster is a proposed constitutional amendment calling for election of the conference chairman.

Beck's message said any such amendment, if approved here will require approval of the international union's convention in September in Miami.

Another proposed resolution provides that the conference elect a chairman and then ask the general president and international executive board to approve him.

Brewster, who was first appointed to the chairmanship in 1952 by Beck, has said he favors making the office elective. He also said he would support other proposed constitutional amendments for stricter handling of union funds.

Tropical Storm Due to Intensify, Move Northward

Miami, Fla., June 25 (AP)—A tropical depression in the Gulf of Mexico gave indications early today that it would soon start intensifying and moving northward, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

The depression, which was first observed last night, has remained almost stationary, the Weather Bureau said. It is located about 350 miles southeast of Brownsville, Texas, at 5 a. m. (CST). Highest winds were estimated at 40 miles per hour in squalls near the center.

The Miami Weather Bureau said it had ordered ship and reports to determine the nature of the disturbance.

A Navy P-2V Neptune took off from Jacksonville at 5:30 a. m. (EST) to investigate the depression.

The plane, commanded by Cmdr. John A. Cork, Tampa, Fla., was to fly into the area and report by radio to the Miami Weather Bureau.

The Weather Bureau said it expected the aircraft to reach the area by 10 a. m. (EST).

Small craft along the lower Texas coast were warned not to venture into the open Gulf.

ment as to what action might be expected in the immediate future.

There has been charged that following the first arrest an understanding had been made that no further arrests would be made for trailer camp violations pending argument of the motions before Judge Bruhn today. However, additional informations were sworn out charging violations on other dates and arrests followed.

Will Rule on Law

Judge Bruhn said he would rule on the question of law and it was then deemed necessary he would take testimony on the proposition of the sufficiency of the informations under which the defendants had been arrested.

On the motion for removal of the cases from its jurisdiction of Justice Macholdt, who as a member of the town board, sat at the time the trailer ordinance was adopted, Judge Bruhn reserved.

The constitutionality of the ordinance is now being attacked in Supreme Court before the Appellate Division.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 25 (AP)—The stock market rallied quietly today after five straight days of decline.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to a point or more. Some specialties made bigger gains.

The market was active and higher at the opening. Gains were retained and improved in later dealings but the trading pace was sluggish.

Wall Street's concern over tight money was lessened somewhat today as the U. S. Treasury's short-term borrowing costs backed down from their 24-year high of last week. At the same time, the Labor Department reported another rise in the cost of living. But news of outstanding nature was lacking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.10 to $181.30 with the industrials up $2.00, the rails up $1.10 and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange, the trend was generally higher in slow trading.

Corporate bonds were higher. U. S. government bonds continued to rally in over the counter dealings.

Tool Firm Strike

Utica, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—More than 1,300 workers of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Co. plant here were on strike today in a wage dispute. Members of Lodge 645, International Assn. of Machinists, and Local 250, International Molders and Foundry Workers union, struck the plant last night. The IAM represents about 1,300 employees at the plant. The molders claim 40 members. George Harrar, plant personnel manager, said the company had offered a 6-per-cent pay increase. Union officials declined to say how much they asked.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo,

Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;

And while he got a "special deal"

His disappointment he can't conceal!

While others drive in Swept-Wing style

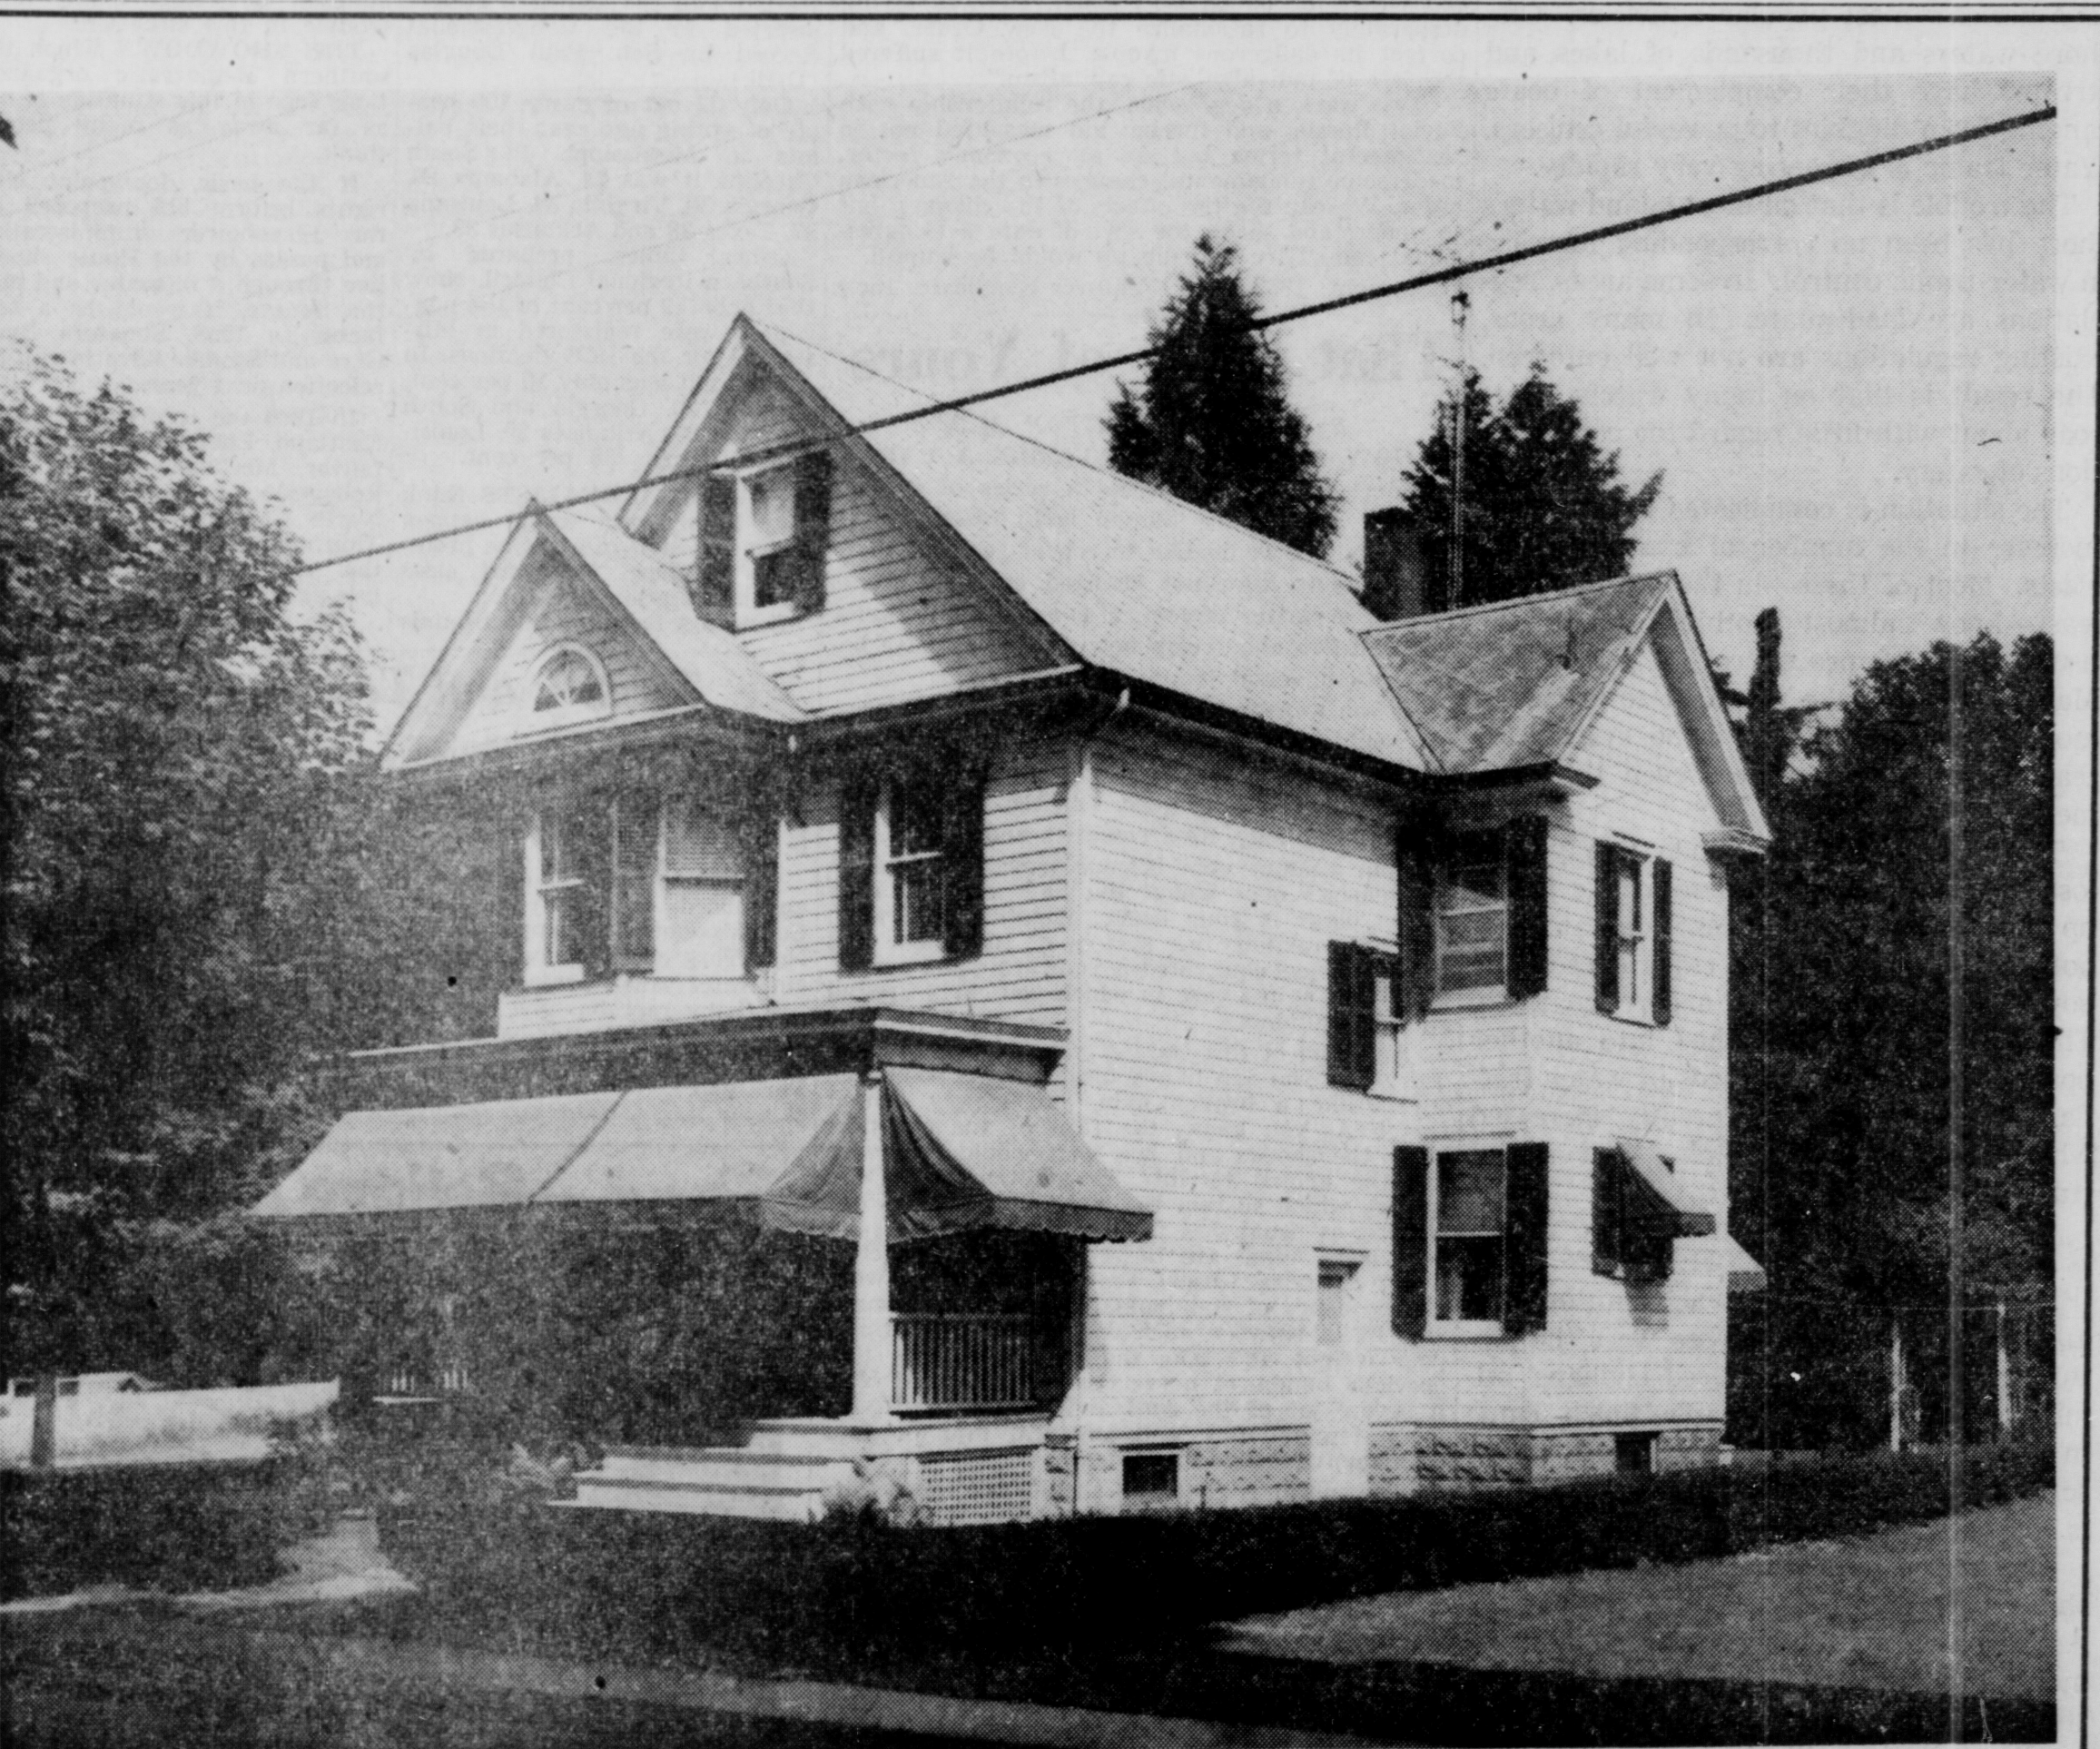

Poor Bill just mutters curses vile:

"They got new styling, features, too—

"I bought a 'deal'—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

SLOWING DOWN SPEED

The directors of the American Automobile Manufacturers' Association recently asked their industry to refrain from further participation in automobile races. They also recommend that individual manufacturers refrain from advertising the speed potential of their cars as a selling point.

It has long seemed senseless to many observers for car makers to advertise the speed and horsepower of their product when present roads and speed laws prohibit the full use of that speed and horsepower. Advertising the speed potential of a car creates a desire to use that speed. It may even be an incentive to people to violate the speed laws.

Merely refraining from advertising speed will not solve the problem. If the prospective car buyer is convinced that there are better reasons for choice than speed and horsepower, the manufacturers may in time cease their race to step up the horsepower.

In recent years some automobile manufacturers have emphasized safety features about their cars. Such advertising, backed up by real efforts to make cars safer, serves a useful social purpose. In the long run, it might sell more cars than advertising which puts the accent on speed.

DANGER BY BOAT

In recent years, boating has become one of America's most popular activities. Off-shore waters and thousands of lakes and streams have their complement of boats ranging from dinghies to powerful cruisers. Water traffic is increasing very rapidly.

The trouble is that on most inland waters there has been no corresponding increase in water traffic control. In some areas, regulations are inadequate. In many areas, existing regulations are not well enforced. The result is that on many waters boats roar about with little regard for considerations of safety.

The situation is complicated by the rapid increase in the number of boating enthusiasts. Most of these—in the beginning, at least—know almost nothing about the usual rules of procedure on the water. Many of them make no effort to learn. In most communities there is no system for teaching new boat owners even the rudiments of water safety.

The recent crash in which two youths lost their lives on a Minnesota lake points up the danger. In this case, operators of both craft involved were experienced. The boys were described as expert boatmen. The fact that they crashed into another boat underscores the hazards of water traffic. Those hazards are greatly increased when boatmen lack training and safety rules are not enforced.

EXIT THE BATTLESHIP

For many years the cavalryman on land and the battleship on the sea were the picturesque twins who captured civilians' admiration. The cavalryman's finish came in World War I, when he was held in reserve for a use which never came. Now it is the battleship's turn.

The guided missile has ended the battleship's usefulness, says Roger Greene, an Associated Press feature writer. The naval monster requires 2,700 officers and men. Its destructive power can be equaled by smaller vessels, with less manpower and with an equipment of guided missiles. Nor do these need the battleship's vast bulk for firing platforms.

Another count against the battleship is its thirst for oil. Small atom-driven boats can do the giant's job as well. And the battleship's cost in the neighborhood of 100 million dollars is prohibitive.

Now only two battleships, the Iowa and the Wisconsin, are on active duty. Another 13 are in mothballs, and likely to stay there. The oldtimer may say, "More's the pity."

SUMMER INVESTIGATIONS

As soon as the most pressing bills are out of the way, Congressional committees will enter upon a competition of investigations. While none of them will be as sensational as the McCarthy-Army Hearings, none will be as fruitless of results. There are not likely to be many spine investigations, although the Democrats do hope to find something which will help them in the 1958 Congressional campaign.

Few of the investigations will deal with those bad boys and girls whom we call Communists. The Supreme Court has made it very difficult to do much about them and they will continue to prove a nuisance to law-enforcement officials. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and the House Un-American Activities Committee have lost their strongest weapon in the Watkins Case Decision which seems to me as bad law as it is bad logic.

Most of the investigations will have to do with money and business, an exceedingly complicated field, in which the investigator is as likely to pluck thistles as roses, depending upon his knowledge of economics and his capacity to grasp the essentials of business operations.

In a broader sense, these investigations may lead to the discovery that we have, during the past four or five years, moved out of the capitalist system, except for a minority of self-employed individuals, and moved into a form of Fascism in which the principal partners are government, big business and big labor unionism. These three partners seem interchangeable. The big businessman takes over control of government departments; when government officials and top military men seek a respite from service, they are absorbed by big business; and the top labor leaders have close relations with both groups, relationships which often transcend their responsibilities to their members.

Nobody designed this structure. It came into existence, to what degree, we do not yet know, largely as a result of the defeat of Harry Truman's populism which he called "The Fair Deal." Truman had no social philosopher to help him, whereas President Eisenhower has at least three, all of them out of Roosevelt's "New Deal" which was a bridge between an older system and one not yet developed. Eisenhower's three philosophers, I would name in the order of their significance, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, Sidney Weinberg, the Wall Street banker who always bobs up in odd places, and General Lucius Clay who is as much a social thinker as a military officer and a big businessman. These three swing a great deal of weight in the social thinking of the Eisenhower Administration.

Other students of the problem may choose other philosophers. Some will place great emphasis on the role of George Humphrey, the Secretary of the Treasury, who is probably the country's leading factor in iron and coal and whose tie-up with Canada's growth is of major significance.

Put it as you please, investigations, well conducted and honestly studied, will establish that there is a tendency in this country toward monopoly; it will disclose an extraordinary role played by bankers and insurance companies; and it will disclose that the law has taken on some new characteristics, that part of the practice of law is really "contracting," that is negotiating quids pro quos, if one is permitted pig Latin. That is, the principal service of these laws is neither drawing up papers nor trying cases, but to know people, and to do favors freely, so that deals may be consummated to evade or avoid the law with the benediction of the government. In an older generation, such transactions were regarded as crooked; today, whatever helps a man pay fewer taxes is regarded as legitimate.

Curiously, Herbert Hoover recognized even prior to 1929 this menace. As Professor William A. Williams put it:

"It is fundamentally wrong to view Hoover either as an astute man trying to save the Old Order, or as an isolationist. He was trying desperately to rationalize the New Order, and correct its dangerous myopia, before it suffered the fate of individualistic capitalism."

Two wars, a depression, the relationship with Soviet Russia, and foreign aid measured not in sentimental terms but as an economic factor, made some fundamental changes in the American order. We can see the effects of the changes, but to understand them, the sort of data a Congressional committee can dip up would be helpful. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
HOW MUCH YOU RESEMBLE A CAR

Some years ago I wrote a series of articles on how greatly the human body resembles an automobile. I would like to repeat some of these as the facts have not changed over the years and, as a matter of fact, I think all of us know a little more about cars now since they have become so universal.

If you were to talk to an automobile engineer, he would get you down to first principals by telling you that the three components of a car are (1) the running gear, (2) the power plant, and (3) the body, its accessories and fittings.

Your running gear is your arms, legs, and all the muscles over which you have control. Your power plant is your heart, digestive apparatus, with the auxiliary air system of the lungs, and your electrical equipment is your brain and nerves. Your body is the case in which you carry around all this equipment.

Any part of this body of yours can get out of order and you are like a disabled car. A broken leg is like a broken axle, you simply cannot travel. As you know, the tires of the car take away the shocks and jars that would otherwise jolt the engine terribly. In addition, there are springs which sustain the body and add comfort. Nature, as usual, has provided you with tires for your body. What are they? They are connective tissue cushions (discs) that are found between all the bones of your spinal column. These cushions fit in between each one which is sustaining your weight and take the jar away from that previous bundle of nerve tissue—the spinal cord. A severe jar of the cord and you are paralyzed for a few minutes, and any real injury means permanent paralysis and death.

The moral is that you should take good care of these tires or cushions. How? By standing and sitting all at times; all parts of these cushions or discs get worn evenly and the weight of your body is where it should be—that is, on the large, heavy part of the bones in front, instead of on the lighter part at the rear of the column.

As you know, ordinary tires wear out and are discarded but we cannot do this with our discs. They wear down a bit through the day and by night each cushion is pressed down a slight fraction of an inch by your body weight. As a matter of fact, you are about a half-inch shorter at night than in the morning. However, by resting at night, the cushions assume their normal size by morning and are ready for the day's run.

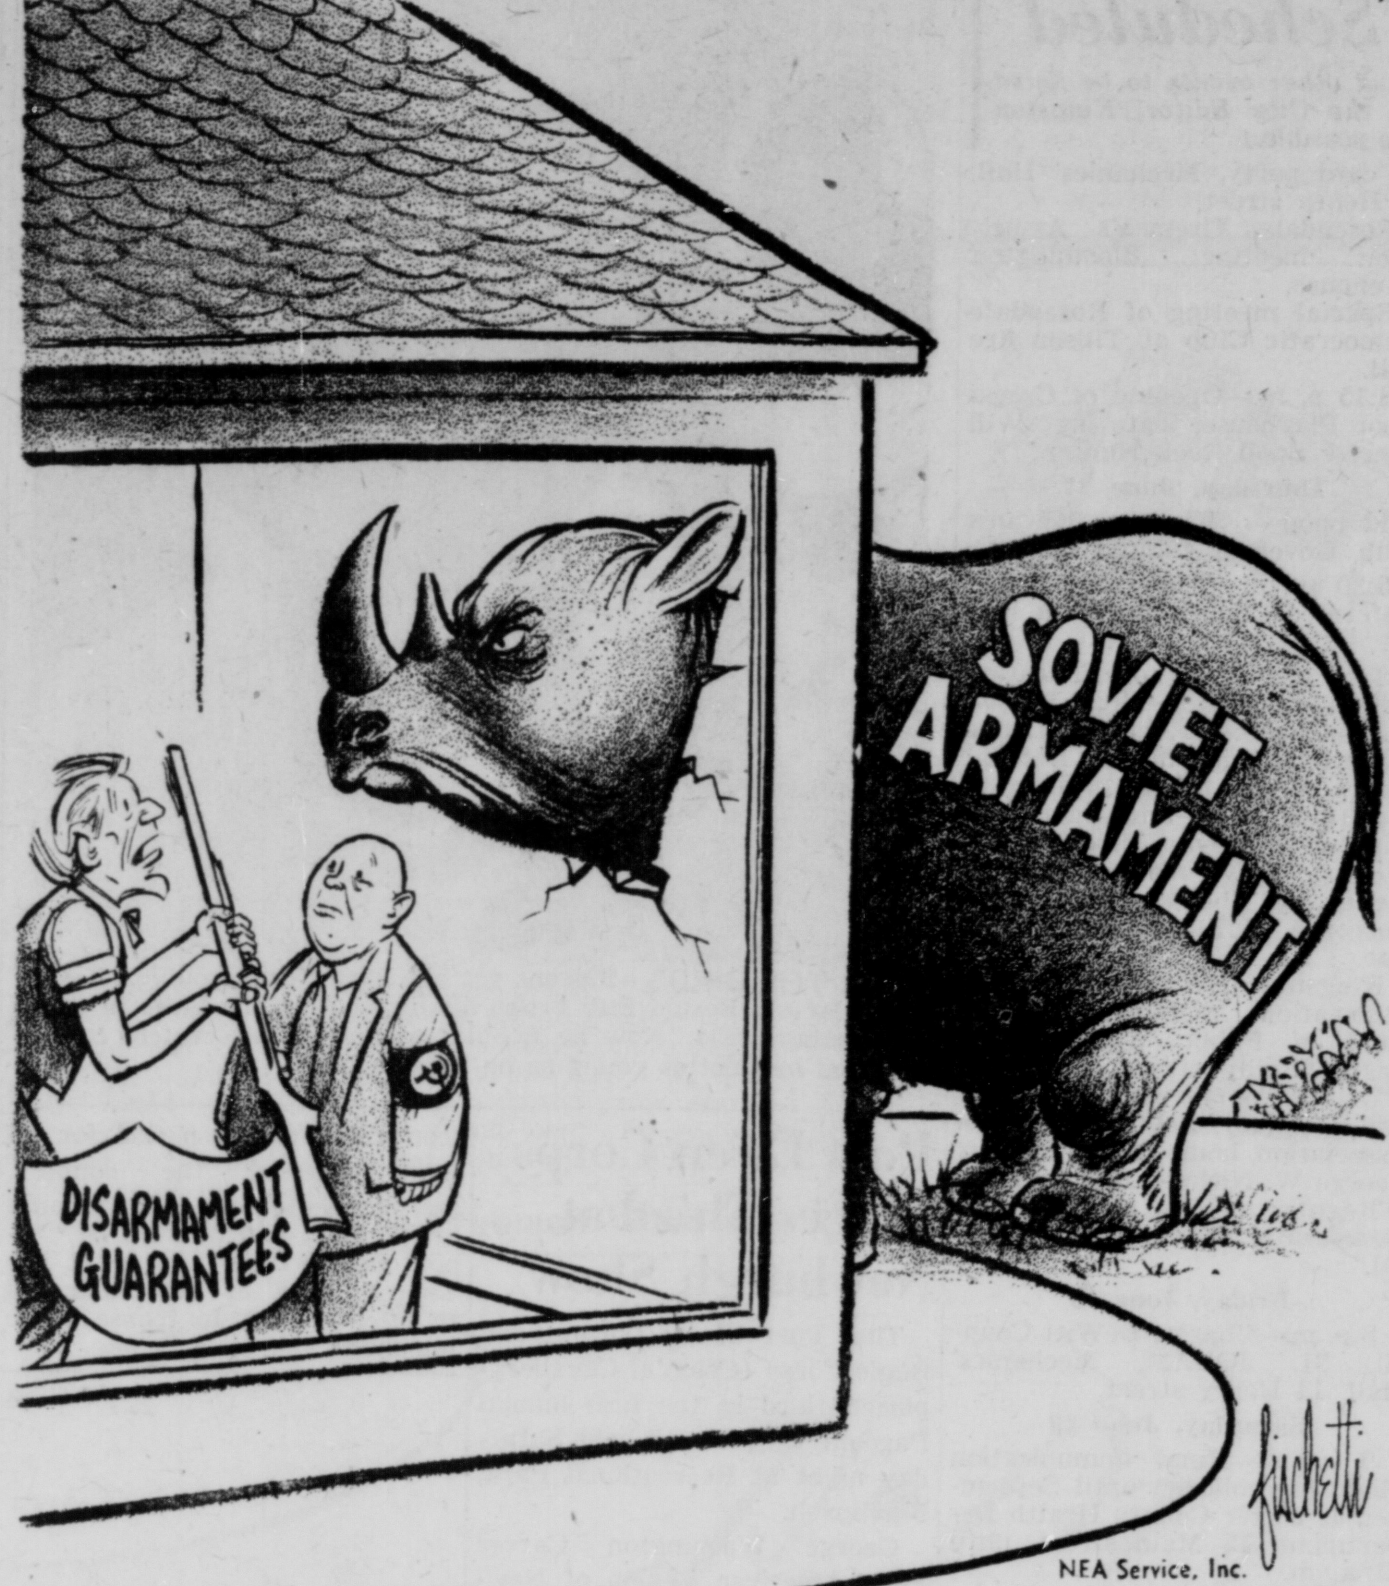

So try to wear out your tires evenly by standing, sitting and walking correctly, that is, by holding yourself as tall as you can at all times. This will help prevent the jars which cause headaches and backaches.

'He'll Make a Better Trophy if He Isn't Breathing'

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—There is more to the civil rights fight now before the U. S. Senate than the matter of racial discrimination.

It is a question of political survival for the Democrats who have held control of the Solid South for nearly 90 years. Southern political leaders see this control slipping if even a mild civil rights bill should pass. Some of them are seen to be pretty desperate about it. It is simple politics.

If and when nonwhites are given full voting rights in the southern states, it is fairly obvious that they won't help elect Democratic politicians who have been preventing them from voting by poll-tax laws or intimidation by custom.

THIS IS INDICATED by a series of tables on 1956 election statistics in the southern states, inserted in the Congressional Record by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.).

Only 22 out of every 100 people of voting age cast their ballots in Mississippi. In South Carolina it was 24, Alabama 28, Georgia 30, Virginia 34, Louisiana 37, Texas 38 and Arkansas 39. Other tables, prepared by Southern Regional Council, show that only 3.9 per cent of the nonwhites were registered in Mississippi for the 1956 elections. In Alabama it was only 10 per cent, Virginia 20, Georgia and South Carolina 25, Arkansas 29, Louisiana 31, Texas 38 per cent.

POLITICAL REALISTS think they know what would happen under full civil rights. One prominent northern Democrat sizes up the situation like this: Senators Eastland and Stennis of Mississippi wouldn't have a chance for re-election. Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who was States' Rights party candidate for president in 1948 and who has been one of the leading opponents of the mild Eisenhower civil rights program, wouldn't fare any better.

Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman of Alabama might have a chance to stay in office. Though they have had to oppose extreme civil rights reform to get elected under the existing election practices in their state, they have such good records on welfare legislation they might survive.

Georgia's new senator, ex-Gov. Herman Eugene Talmadge, probably could not survive. Neither could Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, a States' Rights leader.

Even stalwart senators like Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Richard Russell of Georgia, Russell Long of Louisiana and Lyndon Johnson of Texas might have trouble in this situation.

THE SHOWDOWN which the southern Democratic organizations face in this situation is not as far away as many people think.

If the basic, four-point civil rights reform bill proposed by the Eisenhower administration and passed by the House should live through a filibuster and pass the Senate, it would be a test factor in 1958. Senators Byrd, Gore and Stennis have to run for reelection next year.

In 1960 the terms of Senators Eastland, Ellender, Johnson, Kefauver, McClellan of Arkansas, Robertson of Virginia, Kerr of North Carolina, Sparkman and Thurmond expire. That would be the real test on establishing a two-party system in the South. The new Republican National Committee campaign to invade the South and build up strength in this area could not be better timed, with this situation coming to a head.

Briefly Told

Oneonta, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Robert Meesig, postal inspector for the six-county Oneonta area for five years, was transferred to Rochester today.

His successor is Edward W. Greenan, inspector at Watertown.

The Oneonta area is comprised of Broome, Chenango, Tioga, Cortland, Delaware and Otsego counties.

Utica, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Tuition at Utica College, a division of Syracuse University, will be raised $25 to $350 a semester, effective in September.

Dean Ralph F. Strebel said yesterday the trustees of Syracuse ordered the increase. The proceeds will go largely toward higher faculty salaries, he said.

Evening division rates will go up from $20 to $22 a credit hour.

Albany, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Highway deaths in New York state rose for the third month in a row in May but the toll for 1957's first five months still was under the comparable figure for last year.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly reported yesterday that traffic fatalities in May totaled 168, compared with 164 a year ago. The toll in the first five months was 765, compared with 780 in the same 1956 period.

Kelly said the accident upswing in March, April and May had almost cancelled out the "encouraging" drop in January and February, when the death toll was 45 below the first two months of 1956.

Utica, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—Ogdensburg's former postmaster was under indictment by a Federal grand jury today on a charge of embezzlement of $290 in postal funds.

The jury indicted Archibald G. McLellan yesterday.

He is accused of cashing personal checks with post office funds, without compensatory balance in his accounts.

McLellan has denied the charge.

The Post Office Department announced Saturday McLellan's removal from office.

Albany, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The East Greenbush Central School District has eliminated adult education to help cut its budget for the next fiscal year by $51,282.

The school board said in a letter to residents of the district near here that the cut was made by also eliminating new equipment and repairs and by putting the school cafeteria on a self-supporting basis. The revised budget totals $1,658,134.

Questions Asked on Writing Of Supreme Court Opinions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 25—Who really writes the decisions of the Supreme Court Justices? Do they use "ghost writers," as Presidents occasionally do? Should the public be told what part of a decision is actually written by a Justice and what part is the composition of his law clerk? Is this a part of the "right to know" privilege which the press has been insisting on lately?

These questions have arisen not only because of the occasional expressions and phrasing which appear in Supreme Court opinions that seem conspicuously different from the accustomed writings of a Justice in his previous career, but because the whole subject has just been opened up by the Commission on Government Security.

Effective Steps

This commission of 12 prominent citizens, appointed by the President and by the Senate and the House, issued last week a recommendation that hereafter the judicial branch of the government should "take effective steps to insure that its employees are loyal and otherwise suitable from the standpoint of national security."

Can it be that the commission was thinking about Alger Hiss, who served in the 1930s as a law clerk to a Supreme Court Justice now dead? There were said to be discussions about this and its implications among the members of the commission before it reached its conclusions. Here is what the commission says in its formal report:

"It is fundamental that there should be no reasonable doubt concerning the loyalty of any Federal employee in any of the three branches of the government. In the judicial branch, the possibilities of disloyal employees causing damage to the national security are ever present. As an example, Federal judges, busy with the ever-crowded court calendars, must rely upon assistants to prepare briefing papers for them.

"False or biased information inadvertently reflected in court opinions in crucial security, constitutional, governmental or social issues of national importance could cause severe effects to the nation's security and to our Federal loyalty-security system generally.

"There appears to be no valid reason why an employee of the judicial branch should not be screened, at least as to his basic loyalty to the United States. Certainly the judiciary proper and the public generally should have the assurance that the men and women who carry the administrative responsibilities of the courts or assist in the preparation of decisions are loyal, dependable Americans.

"The commissioner therefore recommends, as in the case of the legislative branch, that the judicial branch and the executive branch endeavor to work out a program under which adequate investigation or screen-

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, June 25 (AP)—How to rescue the downtown districts of our cities—for the benefit of both the citizens and the merchants—puzzles city fathers across the land. Competition from burgeoning suburban shopping centers grows more painful for many.

New plans for handling traffic and parking cars sprout on every hand. Some call for barring vehicles from main shopping streets, turning them into shopping centers for pedestrians only. Some merchants have given up their downtown stores. Still more have opened suburban branches to recapture fleeing customers.

But many of the remaining downtown merchants say it's still a good place to do business. Their downtown sales have grown, even as sales in their suburban outlets.

Ralph Lazarus, newly named president of Federated Department Stores, says its downtown stores in nine U. S. cities do two thirds of the net sales of the organization which also contains 20 branch units and a nine-store Fedway chain in smaller areas.

Net sales of the downtown stores totaled 453 million dollars in 1956, compared with 428 million in 1955.

B. Earl Puckett, chairman of Allied Stores, which has 84 outlets, 35 of them city department stores, predicts this year's sales will run five per cent ahead of 1956 and sees nothing alarming on the retailing horizon either downtown or in the suburbs.

May Department Stores Co. reports increases in total sales this year over last, and for last year over 1955, for its 10 downtown and 20 branch units.

Success Rubs Off
So does R. H. Macy & Co. for its six downtown and 27 branch units.

"The stronger the downtown store, the more complete its assortments of merchandise and its services, the more successful will be its suburban branches," says Lazarus.

Some of the downtown store's advantages he cites: Growth in metropolitan areas is about four times as rapid as in non-metropolitan areas (although more rapid in suburbs than within city limits); marked increase in white collar and service employment brings more workers downtown to become potential noon hour and after work customers.

A—Usually four to six.

Q—Could the U. S. Constitution be amended so that heavily populated states could have three senators instead of two?

A—While theoretically possible, this is a practical impossibility since the consent of every state would be required.

Haiti Vote May Not Come Until Later in Year

Port au Prince, Haiti, June 25 (AP)—Haiti's presidential election may not come until "sometime between September and November," a qualified army source said today.

There is a widespread demand among the people for an immediate vote. But the army source said the republic's military junta is determined to revamp the governmental apparatus and achieve some degree of stability first.

Junta Confident

The junta is confident of maintaining its rule, although there is "a danger of revolt within the army," the source said. This might be engineered, he added, by 67 ousted army officers.

"The most dangerous of these and of the politicians are being closely watched," he said.

The three-man junta took over the government amid the turmoil that resulted in the ouster two weeks ago of provisional President Daniel Fignole, now in exile in New York.

Jaycees to Hear Nixon Talk Today

Milwaukee, June 25 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon was scheduled to deliver today the keynote address to the 37th Annual National Convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is a former member of the organization.

Nixon was due to arrive by plane from Washington at 12:15 p. m. (EST) and to address the convention's 6,000 delegates in the Milwaukee arena 45 minutes later. He planned to leave the city before evening.

Preliminary business of the convention, that will end Thursday with the election of officers, began yesterday.

The Resolution Committee met and forwarded to the delegates a proposal which charges producers of pornographic literature with "hiding the technicalities of the right of freedom of the press." The resolution, one of 12 approved, said the standards of American youth were being lowered by "undesirable comic books, salacious girlie publications and scandal magazines."

Would Pay Police Industrial Scale

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The community or state that does not provide "adequate" salaries and equipment for its policemen "does not deserve to have a good police department," New York city's police commissioner says.

Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy last night urged police salaries high enough to "compete with industry."

He spoke at the 32nd annual convention of the New York State Police Conference. About 500 are attending.

Kennedy asserted: "We must see to it that our men receive adequate compensation and that a policeman is not considered an unnecessary appendage to the body politic."

The commissioner said that since 1950 the crime rate had risen four times as rapidly as the population had increased.

"The economic cost of crime—more than 20 billion dollars annually—would alone make this the primary domestic problem facing the nation," he said. "But dollars and cents can hardly tell the whole story. How can one properly assess the human cost and human misery of a nation that reports, for example, in a single year 12,620 people slain, 20,300 women raped, and 96,430 wounded and maimed?"

Bloomgarden, 28-year-old New York public relations consultant, downed Matthew Kane of Indianapolis and then tied Harold Craig of Granville, N. Y. The match with Craig will be continued next Monday night.

Bloomgarden picked up $8,000 when he defeated Kane and added that to his previous winnings of $108,000. He stopped the game at the end of the second round.

He held an 18-10 lead.

Craig, a 26-year-old farmer, nearly defeated Bloomgarden when the reigning champion fell behind by missing a nine-point question on chemistry. But Craig failed to stop the game when he was ahead and Bloomgarden evened things up, 21-21.

FIFTEEN REDEMPTORISTS ORDAINED—His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman ordained 15 Redemptorist seminarians to the Roman Catholic priesthood Sunday at Mt. St.

Bloomgarden Now Has $116,000 in Quiz

New York, June 25 (AP)—Hank Bloomgarden defeated one contestant and tied another last night as he boosted his winnings to $116,000 on NBC-TV's "Twenty-One" quiz show.

Bloomgarden, 28-year-old New York public relations consultant, downed Matthew Kane of Indianapolis and then tied Harold Craig of Granville, N. Y. The match with Craig will be continued next Monday night.

Bloomgarden picked up $8,000 when he defeated Kane and added that to his previous winnings of $108,000. He stopped the game at the end of the second round.

He held an 18-10 lead. Craig, a 26-year-old farmer, nearly defeated Bloomgarden when the reigning champion fell behind by missing a nine-point question on chemistry. But Craig failed to stop the game when he was ahead and Bloomgarden evened things up, 21-21.

Bank Call Issued

Washington, June 25 (AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the conditions of all national banks at the close of business Thursday, June 6. The federal reserve board issued a similar call for state banks which are members of the federal reserve system. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. called for statements from insured banks which are not covered by either the comptroller's or the reserve board's request for condition statements.

Cadillac

Since Sun-Up...and Still Not Tired!

The sun gleamed low in the east when he set out on his journey this morning.

And here he is—well after nightfall—still going strong at the wheel!

If you have spent any time in a new Cadillac car, you can understand his reluctance to bring his day's journey to an end.

For the man who holds the wheel of this magnificent motor car is heir to the greatest satisfactions ever conferred on a motorist.

To begin with, the car holds him in superb comfort through even the longest day. Its seat cushions are wonderfully soft and buoyant... and every imaginable interior convenience is in constant attendance.

Then, of course, there is Cadillac's almost unbelievable ease of handling. Starting, turning, stopping... the car seems almost to read his mind.

And, finally, there is the deep satisfaction he enjoys in commanding his own Cadillac car. For possession is nine points of the pleasure when your motor car bears the beautiful crest of Cadillac.

Little wonder, then, that he still finds himself at the wheel. For the miles ahead are always tempting—when the miles past have been so wonderful!

If you haven't learned for yourself what it's like to take to the highway in a 1957 Cadillac, we urge you to visit your dealer very soon.

To be sure, you won't have to spend a full day at the wheel to discover the magic of Cadillac's performance and the luxury of coachcraft by Fleetwood. A single hour is all you'll need.

Why not try it yourself—tomorrow?

Appellate Rules Melish Should Leave His Pulpit

New York, June 25 (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court today ruled that the Rev. William Howard Melish should be removed from the pulpit of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn.

A four-to-one decision of the court holds that the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Sidener was legally elected and installed as rector of the church early last year.

The Rev. Mr. Melish said he would appeal the latest ruling in a long controversy to the Court of Appeals, the state's highest tribunal.

He called the Appellate Division decision "regrettable," and said his lawyers would seek a court "stay of existing conditions" pending a review of the decision by the high court.

The 47-year-old Melish has been serving as supply priest at the historic church on Brooklyn Heights despite the fact that Bishop James P. DeWolfe installed Dr. Sidener as rector March 5, 1956.

Two Eggs at Once Laid by Harmony Hen

Harmony, R. I., June 25 (AP)—A hen owned by Eugene Walker laid two eggs Sunday, one within the other.

The double egg weighed about a half pound and measured 10 inches in circumference lengthwise and eight inches around the center.

Dr. William H. Wiley, head of the University of Rhode Island Poultry Department, said the hen's laying process apparently went into reverse as she was ready to lay the first egg.

He said the first egg "went clear to the opposite end of the reproductive tract where it joined with another yolk and started the whole egg formation process all over again."

Falls 15 Floors, Lives

New York, June 25 (AP)—A 51-year-old accountant plunged from the 15th floor of a skyscraper in the downtown financial district last night—and lived. Joseph J. Klein crashed through a skylight on a second-floor setback. Police said he "jumped or fell" from an office adjoining his own in a 22-story building (at 32 Broadway) just south of Wall street. Klein was reported in critical condition today at Beekman-Downtown Hospital. His injuries included fractures of the ribs and right elbow. His wife, Betty, went to the hospital.

Tito Scores Reds

Belgrade, June 23 (AP)—President Tito today accused some foreign communists of being insincere because they talked of friendship with Yugoslavia but continued their anti-Yugoslav campaign. Although he did not mention the Soviet Union by name, the Yugoslav president obviously was talking about the Russians. Addressing a congress of Yugoslav workers' councils, Tito warned that his government "cannot be deceived by empty words" of friendship. "It is time that these attacks (against Yugoslavia) stopped," he declared.

Solves TV Problem

Juneau, Alaska, June 25 (AP)—A television retailer in Juneau has come up with an air-age development to help him sell TV sets in outlying areas. The main difficulty in making sales, Al Glover says, has been the long time needed to find the proper antenna location for homes in the mountainous areas miles from Juneau's TV station (KINY-TV). Glover has equipped his Hiller 12-B helicopter with 5; aerials on each landing skid. The pilot hovers over the home of a prospective customer until a clear picture is obtained on a 17-inch portable set in the cockpit. The site is marked on the ground for erection of an antenna. Glover says the plane has worked perfectly.

Typhoon Loses Punch

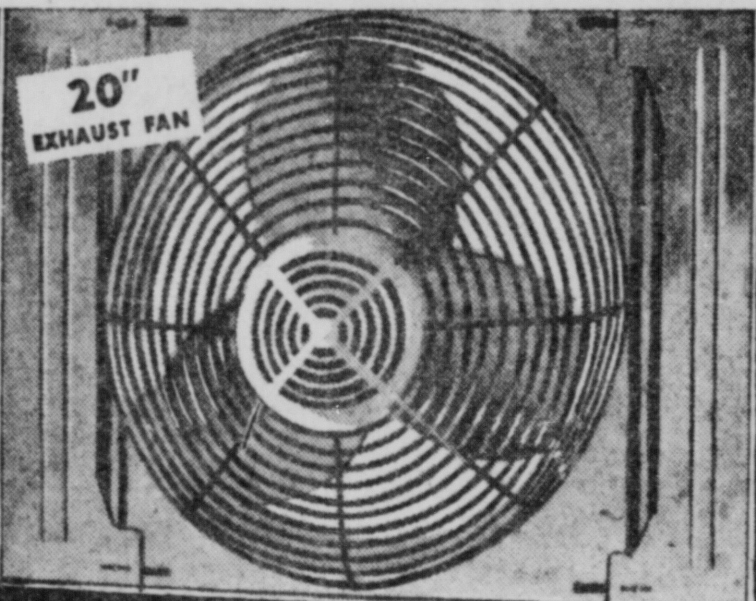

Taipei, June 25 (AP)—Typhoon Virginia, part of her fury expended in the past 24 hours, hurled herself today at the southeast coast of Formosa. By then Virginia had been reclassified as a tropical storm, with maximum winds of 92 miles an hour. Her strength was further blunted by the mountains of Formosa's north-south range. There were no immediate reports of damage from the storm, which as a typhoon had attained peak winds of 175 miles an hour. The storm helped to alleviate the heat wave which Formosa has been experiencing.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Very seldom do folks read a paper from another state, that is why I enjoy the Carteret County News-Times of Morehead City, N. C., that Ruth Howland Deyo, a former Kingstonian sends me from time to time when her "Do You Remember?" column appears in it.

Morehead City being on the coast gets some violent hurricanes. That was one reason I never took advantage of Ruth's invitation to visit down there.

I remember we'd be uptown around Academy Green and see the dark clouds gather, and hear the thunder roll and I'd be off for home. Sometimes we would sit it out and the worst storm seemed to last about one hour. We would drink tea and talk and she would tell me about their storms which seemed to just go around and around Morehead City. When the Atlantic storms really come, there is often mention of her hometown which worries me and I drop her a card asking how she is. She always survives, she writes.

Now since I mention Morehead City many readers comment on it. I am surprised at the interest folks up here take about a city like ours, down south. Only recently we were getting a heat wave which we thought would never end and we complained and complained, I with the rest. Now that we have mild weather again, everybody takes it for granted. For those folks who sometimes feel the grass is greener in San Francisco or south, here is something from the Morehead City editorial: "After seeing San Francisco papers on the recent March earthquakes in California, the Tar Heel who has experienced hurricanes wonders which is worse . . . to have the waters and wind roll over him or the earth open up under him. . . . Somehow a hurricane seems safer than an earthquake, if such could possibly be!"

The above was from the Friday, April 5, 1957 North Carolina paper. It further stated: "Peculiar things happen in earthquakes . . . San Francisco's famed Ferry Building which survived the 1906 quake, withstood it again several weeks ago, but the clock in its tower stopped; the bells in St. Patrick's Church on Mission street pealed 15 minutes early; and a clock on the 16th floor of the Central Tower Building chimed for the first time in years. . . . clock-makers had been unable to repair it in the past. 'They had broken sewer and water lines, gas mains, fallen plaster and toppled fireplaces, etc.' The editorial ends with: 'For our money, hurricanes hold less terror than earthquakes. Weathermen can tell us when hurricanes are coming. Then too, riding out a terrific wind seems safer, somehow, than trying to dodge cracks in the earth that can swallow you or even your car!'"

So next time you complain about weather conditions in Ulster county and around about, think of San Francisco and its gaping cracks in the streets and broken gas mains and think of Morehead City and its swift and furious hurricanes and be thankful what we get is mild in comparison to any part of the country, be it winter or summer, wind or snow, and someday maybe the floods will be controlled by some wise folks around here. We will have lots of hot and humid weather and some glor-

Much of Festival 'Telethon' Quota Reported Pledged

A "telethon" effort to raise $50,000 for the Empire State Music Festival which opens Thursday, July 4, was conducted Monday by a group of Ellenville civic leaders with "nice progress" reported.

The telethon is continuing today, Harry Resnick of Channel Masters Inc. told The Freeman. He said the festival still needed some money although a considerable part of the quota had been pledged by business men and citizens of Ulster and Sullivan counties.

Needs Audience Support
Members of the groups keeping the lines hot in behalf of the festival are Louis Berger, Harold Harris, David Levinson, Robert Stapleton, Allen Porter and Harry Thayer.

Mr. Resnick said he would like to see a Kingston citizen committee in behalf of the festival organized to support the brilliant musical event, one of the top such programs in the nation.

He explained that what the festival needs in particular right now is "audience support." He would like to see Kingston music lovers support the festival with purchases of large blocks of tickets.

What about a Kingston Day at the festival with, say, 500 or 600 people coming over for a performance? he asked.

The festival will run for four weeks with a brilliant program in prospect for music lovers of the area.

Governors Cool

was a trend toward centralization of government and to re-establish states rights.

Mostly Silent
The concrete results of a 29-minute presidential appeal added up mostly to silence on the part of the governors and their official families.

Eisenhower got applause when he rose to speak. He got a smattering of hand clapping halfway through his address. He got the usual applause for a President when he concluded.

But the overall effect produced from GOP Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland the observation: "I'm convinced nothing can be done about it." McKeldin has been one of Eisenhower's staunchest roosters.

Eisenhower, who flew here for an overnight stay, suggested that the proposed federal-state task force concentrate on a single program where there is duplication of state and federal effort. He said the cost in state taxes of carrying out the program should be compared with the cost in federal taxes.

Fractured Skull

Pauker, was summoned, examined France and ordered him to a hospital. He was taken to the hospital by Schultz Ambulance where he died about 9:30 a. m. Monday.

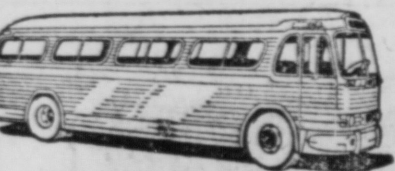

No Signs of Injury
The coroner said that when France was admitted to the jail it was assumed by the deputies that he was intoxicated. He said they apparently observed no signs of cranial injury.

Funeral services will be held at the Lasher Funeral Home, Woodstock, at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor of the Woodstock Reformed Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Daisy Cemetery, Town of Saugerties.

Surviving is his father, Howard France of Zena; five brothers, Earl of West Saugerties, Irving of Zena, Clarence of Pemberton, N. J., Howard and David of Woodstock; three sisters, Leona France of West Hurley, Mrs. Armanpha Fischer of Zena and Mrs. Agnes Henion of Kingston.

U.S. TAKE NOTICE—Ever try to find a redcap in a busy metropolitan railroad station? The British have the same trouble, but the British Railways have done something about it. They are providing "do-it-yourself" luggage carriers for the use of passengers, such as this seaside-bound mother and daughter. The lightweight carriers, which can tote about 400 pounds, are spotted on platforms so debarking passengers can get luggage to taxi stands with a minimum of delay. Also on Thursday afternoon will be the election of governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and state comptroller. Election returns will be announced at dinner that night.

At 8 p. m. Thursday will be Fun Night, consisting of skits to be presented by the seven units of Girls State.

The girls will leave for Albany Friday morning where the Hon. Carmine G. DeSapio, secretary of state, will administer oaths of office to Girls State officers.

Address by Governor
At 10:30 a. m. there will be a discussion of bills in the Senate chambers and at 10:45 a. m. a discussion of bills in the Assembly chambers.

This will be followed by an address by Gov. Averell Harriman.

The girls will return to New Paltz about noon.

Friday night there will be presentation of state officers' pins and certificates by Department President Mrs. Leonard Miscal and presentation of Girls state pins and certificates to citizens by house mothers and Mrs. Jesse Haley. The girls return home Saturday morning.

Dulles-Johnson

ceptance of Sen. Johnson's 'open curtain' proposal.
"Now that the proposal is made," he said, "I hope it will be pursued."

The interviews preceded a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to pass on a resolution to extend until next Jan. 31 the life of a special 12-member disarmament subcommittee headed by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) The extension from June 30 would leave the subcommittee available for complete briefings on disarmament negotiations in London.

Some members of the group may go to London if negotiations there reach the point Eisenhower and Dulles think the Senate should have observers on the spot.

Services by Radio
Spring Grove, Minn. (AP)—Trinity Lutheran Church of this farming village of 1,200 people has found an unusual way to keep in touch with the shut-ins of its scattered parish. The church has set up a radio system which broadcasts worship services, weddings and various church meetings through a hook-up with local telephone circuits to special receiver sets in the shut-ins' homes. The service now is carried into some 40 private homes, and to the local infirmary and hospital.

Double Indemnity
Miles City, Mont. (AP)—Dick and Dan Biery of Rosebud county are 20-year-old twins. Both have twin model-sedans. Both were fined $10 in justice court after pleading guilty to driving their twin vehicles, bumper to bumper, 68 miles an hour in a 55-mile-an-hour zone.

Rent Control Is Voted Off July 1 In Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The Poughkeepsie Common Council last night voted 5 to 4 to decontrol rent in the city starting July 1.

The decision was reached at the close of a stormy session at which scores of tenants pleaded with the city officials to continue rent control for at least another year.

A minority group of landlords urged the city fathers to lift the rent control. They claimed they have been losing money in their investment in real estate because of the restrictions under rent control.

Mayor J. Thomas Dietz, Republican, cast the deciding vote to discontinue rent controls after a 4 to 4 deadlock vote of the council.

Nurses Alerted

without atomic tests.

The amount of radioactivity in the state's topsoil is 8½ per cent of the amount that could be expected without fallout, O'Brien said.

O'Brien said samplings of the state's drinking water supplies, begun in 1955, showed "no accumulations of isotopes from any sources in the waters tested which would prevent their use as a source of drinking water."

Step Up Sampling
He said the sampling program was being stepped up to provide more complete coverage.

Earlier this month, he said, local public health engineers were asked to submit raw water samples for radioactivity measurement whenever a water supply was made.

The Mohawk river below the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory at Schenectady "has the capacity to absorb or dilute a much greater amount of radioactive wastes than is currently being deposited or is likely to be deposited in the river within the foreseeable future," O'Brien said.

Less Polio for Period
Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, told a meeting of the School Nurse Teachers Assn. that, up to June 14 of this year, there had been 16 cases of polio upstate as compared to 66 at the same time last year. Of the 10 paralytic cases, one was a child who had seen Nagy in Sinaia, Romania, and urged him to say he was "overwhelmed by fascist, reactionary elements and your good faith was abused."

Gromyko Scores
had noted that the Soviet proposals "facilitate an agreement between the powers." The chief new proposal is for a ban on nuclear weapon tests to be enforced by international inspection teams stationed in the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and the Pacific testing areas.

"It would seem," Gromyko said in a prepared statement he read, "that under the circumstances all participants in the talks on disarmament should be particularly careful and restrained in order to help maintain an atmosphere favorable to progress of the talks."

U. S. Must Answer
"But if Norstad and other champions of the cold war reflect the real policy of the United States, then how is one to evaluate the U. S. role in the disarmament talks? Are not these talks being used as a screen to continue and intensify the arms race?"

"The answer can only come from the government of the United States."

(There was no direct comment in Paris from Norstad. But a spokesman for him pointed out that Norstad made no speech to the Senate Committee, but was only testifying on NATO's capabilities to retaliate against a Soviet attack. The spokesman declared Norstad did not refer at any time to NATO intentions or capabilities of launching an attack on the Soviet Union.)

Dismisses U. S. Position
The correspondents were given no chance to question Gromyko, who left the seventh floor conference room in the skyscraper foreign ministry immediately after reading his statement.

Gromyko dismissed the U. S. position that its participation in NATO and other military alliances are purely defensive. He said these arguments could not be reconciled with the "aggressive and incendiary" statements of Norstad and other U. S. leaders and obviously were aimed at "lulling the vigilance of the people."

the nations of western Europe
The Soviet official again warned that establishment of atomic bases abroad and moves to arm the West German army with atomic weapons proved the "groundlessness of U. S. statements" on the defensive nature of U. S. foreign policy.

Warns Britain
Gromyko aimed a special warning at Britain, which he said "has quite a few U. S. bases on its territory," that American assurances of peace did not measure up to warlike statements he said were coming out of Washington.

Terming Norstad a "troubador of the cold war," Gromyko blasted the general's reported statement that NATO could destroy everything of military importance in Russia "from any of our four sides."

The Soviet Union is not the only country that can be attacked from any of four sides, Gromyko declared. "That rule applies to any aggressor who plans to launch an aggressive military adventure."

Lanza May Face

tortion at Manhattan's Fulton Fish Market, was arrested last Feb. 5 for violating his 1950 parole. Later he was sent back to Clinton to finish serving his original 7½ to 15-year term for extortion. He presumably had about 11 months to go.

Longer Time
But it was disclosed yesterday that former parole commissioner Edward J. Donovan had set Sept. 19, 1954, as the date of Lanza's delinquency as a parole violator. That's about 28 months earlier than the February date.

Donovan fixed the earlier delinquency date in a ruling June 17, the day before his term on the parole board expired. If the board upholds the ruling, Lanza will have to serve an additional 28 months in prison.

The 1954 date apparently refers to the night when Lanza was photographed in a Manhattan night club with a notorious woman jewel thief known as "Madam Ladyfingers." Consorting with a known criminal is a parole violation.

Mailler, reached at Plattsburgh last night, said the 1954 delinquency date had been determined by investigation. He said the board had the authority to set the 1954 date even though the existence of a violation was discovered after that time.

Two weeks after his arrest last January Lanza was restored to parole by Parole Commissioner James R. Stone. Stone's action touched off a furor and he resigned.

Lanza was rearrested and imprisoned April 11.
The Legislature's "watchdog" committee and acting state investigation commissioner Arthur

L. Reuter both launched probes into Lanza's parole. The committee's public hearing was postponed indefinitely last week after balking witnesses refused to answer questions.

Frogs at Large
Norman, Okla. (AP)—A Norman youngster, worried over a new city ordinance which prohibits horses, mules, and other livestock from running at large, went straight to the top for advice. He called Mayor Paul V. Keen and asked what would happen if his pet frogs got loose. Keen informed him that if the city received a complaint the poundmaster probably would have to pick them up.

Pleads Guilty To Charges on Secret Data

Huntsville, Ala., June 25 (AP)—Army Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., today pleaded guilty to 15 charges that he disobeyed orders in the handling of secret information.

Nickerson's surprise plea came just a few minutes after the government dropped its espionage charge against the missile expert at the very opening of his trial by general courts-martial.

Faces 30 Years
One result of the government's action and the Nickerson plea will be to shut off any possibility of a full-scale review of the nation's whole missile program.

Originally, Nickerson faced 18 charges of disobedience of orders, perjury and espionage. As matters now stand, the maximum sentence which could be imposed on Nickerson under the 15 remaining charges is a dishonorable discharge and 30 years in prison.

Drifting Motorboat Belongs to Dr. Dodge
The mystery of an outboard motorboat found floating in the Hudson river near Ulster Park early Sunday morning has been solved.

The boat was discovered by George Peterson of the River road, Port Ewen, at 1 a. m. Sunday and reported to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriffs Harrison Rose and Charles McCullough made a limited check on Sunday without result.

On Monday County Investigator Arthur H. Brown discovered through investigation in the area that the boat was owned by Dr. James T. Dodge of Trenton, N. J., who has a summer place in Ulster Park.

An inquiry at the residence disclosed that the boat had apparently become loosened at its moorings and had drifted upstream.

Phoenicia Meeting Discusses Urgent Need for Doctor

The urgent need for a doctor to service the Phoenicia area was discussed at a special open meeting of residents in that mountain community last week, it was reported to The Freeman today.

The community has had two doctors who resided in the town and one coming in from Woodstock one day a week.

Dr. Marie Bieber died early in 1957 and Dr. Charles Quinn has been ill and unable to attend his practice.

Dr. Kenneth M. Bremer of Woodstock has been coming to Phoenicia and holds office hours at specific times during the week.

A committee including Robert Gregg and Grant Meyers were appointed to contact doctors in the county in order to find one interested in settling in Phoenicia. Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, director of Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and secretary of the Ulster County Medical Society told The Freeman this morning that a list of about four or five physicians who have indicated that they might want to open an office in Phoenicia, was turned over to the committee.

Kills Woman, Self

Montgomery, Ala., June 25 (AP)—A man chased a screaming secretary around the car in which his wife sat last night, shot the secretary three times, reloaded, fired a few more shots into the woman, smoked a cigarette and then shot himself, police said. Detective Lt. George Owen said the woman, Miss Ouida Wright, died immediately. The 30-year-old man, John C. McNair, a plumber, died in a hospital about half an hour later. The wife fled to the safety of a neighbor's home.

Roadblocks Are Planned on Tax Evading Trucks

Albany, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The state plans a roadblock network to catch "gypsy truckers" and others trying to evade New York's mileage tax on heavy trucks.

Tax Commissioner George M. Bragalin said today that police would join truck-tax examiners to halt trucks at a series of undisclosed locations and check them for tax and weight-limit violations.

All trucks with maximum gross weight over 18,000 pounds are subject to the tax. Trucks must have highway-use permits and plates and the operators must file monthly tax returns, paying tax based on both weight and miles operated in the state.

Bragalin said most truckers comply voluntarily. "Our drive," he said, "is aimed against so-called gypsy truckers and other deliberate violators who regularly by-pass permanent weigh stations to evade the tax and avoid checks for overloading."

Last year more than 500 violators were caught at roadblocks and assessed an additional $47,269.

Hits Coffee Breaks

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 25 (AP)—A nutrition specialist asserted today that "the morning coffee break is weakening the health of our nation. Dorothea Van Gundy of Arlington, Calif., member of the staff of the International Nutrition Laboratory, addressed the annual state conference of the Seventh Day Adventists. Miss Van Gundy said: "Some 50 per cent of Americans suffer from low blood sugar. And that is caused largely by our national acceptance of the coffee break as well as too much sugar on our foods and our summertime overdosing on soda pop."

Living Costs Up

Washington, June 25 (AP)—The cost of living rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in May to its ninth consecutive record high, the labor department reported today. The increase, combined with a shorter work week, resulted in a drop of one-half of 1 per cent in the real earnings of factory workers last month, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) reported. Almost one million workers will receive wage boosts under union-management contracts gearing pay scales to the consumer price index.

Ike Is Forced To Switch Planes

Langley Air Force Base, Va., June 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower had to switch planes today after the electrical starting system of his private aircraft failed while it still was on the ground. The President took off from this headquarters of the tactical air command at 7:40 a. m. (EST) 40 minutes behind schedule.

Eisenhower motored here from Williamsburg, 30 miles north of Langley, where he spent the night after delivering a major address at the 49th Annual Governors' Conference.

President Unruffled

The President came off the Columbine III unruffled and wearing a big smile. He walked several yards to an air force Douglas DC4 and went aboard.

Among those making the switch with the President were Sherman Adams, his chief aide, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician.

Col. William G. Draper, pilot of the Columbine, told newsmen the delay "was due to electrical problems which we are trying to trace and isolate."

St. Colman's Church Forms Background
For Tierney-McWeeney Wedding June 22

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. McWEENEY
(Photo Workshop)

On Saturday, June 22, in St. Colman's Church, East Kingston, Miss Joan Barbara Tierney, daughter of Mrs. Charles Tierney of East Kingston and the late Mr. Tierney, became the bride of John C. McWeeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McWeeney of 9 McDonald street, Saugerties. The Rev. Edmund Radford officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Mrs. Winifred Renn sang several selections.

For the occasion, the church was decorated with white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of nylon chiffon over a draped bodice and sweep train. Her headpiece of organza buds secured a triple tiered silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies.

Miss Kathleen Joyce, classmate of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of Delf blue chiffon fashioned with a low torso and floor length skirt and her hat was of nylon sheer petals to which was attached a flirtation veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow daisies.

Bridesmaids included Miss Carol Scharp of 245 Pearl street and Miss Kay Whitehead of Saugerties. They wore gowns of blue chiffon in the same style as that worn by the honor attendant. Their petal hats held flirtation veils to match the gowns and they carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies.

Leonard Sweeney of Saugerties, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were William Peters and John Bartells also residents of Saugerties.

A reception was held at the Flamingo for approximately 180 guests.

The bride graduated from Kingston High School and the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed as head nurse in the maternity ward at the hospital.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, served with the army military intelligence in Korea and is now a field representative for Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a lime green linen dress with beige accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The couple will make their home at 138 Ulster avenue, Saugerties, when they return from their trip.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A SUPERSTITIOUS PRACTICE

Dear Mrs. Post: I was given a shower the other evening and one of the presents I received was a set of knives. I have been told that when one receives such a present it is necessary to give a coin to the person who gave it, otherwise it will break friendship. Will you please tell me what you think about this and if I should send a coin to the giver?

Answer: This is a superstitious practice which certainly should not be taken seriously. If you want to send a coin, it would be entirely permissible to do so and explain why you are sending it.

Bride in Everyday Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: When a bride is wearing ordinary day clothes and not a wedding dress and veil, is it in good taste for her to have a procession up through the church and out again?

Answer: If the church is very small, the wedding group would properly walk up the aisle. But if the church is very large and its emptiness therefore very conspicuous, it would certainly be better to enter from the chancel. The bride would, of course, enter on the arm of her father or whoever is to give her away. But if there are no more than very few persons present, she and the bridegroom might possibly walk in together.

An Unexpected Visitor

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me when going to visit a friend in the afternoon and you find that she has other guests, is it proper for the unexpected visitor to stay, or should she take her leave as soon as possible?

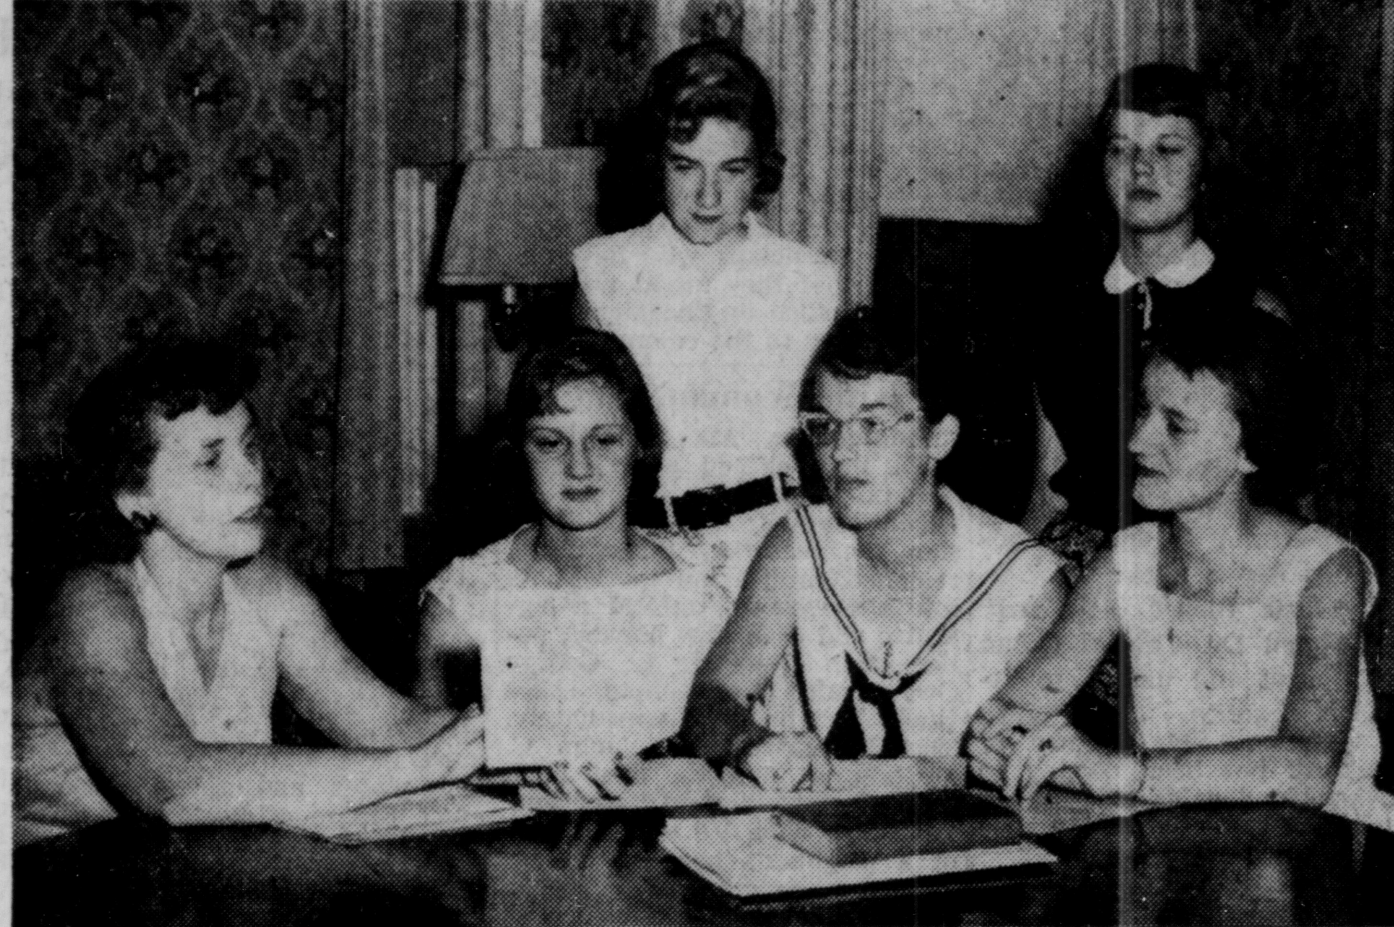

Answer: If they are playing bridge, or seem to have been having a conversation that you are interrupting, you should make some excuse and leave. But if the conversation is general and you are made welcome, you may stay.

How should one eat a baked potato? Is it good manners to break crackers into soup? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-16, "Table Rules of Importance," will explain this and other questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Excellent Appetizer Course in Snack-Mix BREAKFAST CEREAL snack-mix is a nutritious offering to go with cold summer drinks or fruit juices as an appetizer course.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For serving with cold summer drinks or with fruit juices as an appetizer course, a breakfast cereal snack-mix is a nutritious offering.

Cereal snack-mix is a basic recipe (develop your own special variation by changing the seasonings. Curry powder is an interesting addition). It keeps well for several weeks in an airtight container in refrigerator.

Cereal Snack-Mix (2 quarts)
One and one-half cups shredded rice, bite size; 1½ cups shredded wheat, bite size; 1½ cups ready-to-eat oat cereal, 2 cups slim pretzel sticks, 1 cup salted peanuts, skinned; 1/3 cup butter or margarine, 4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, ½ to 1 teaspoon garlic salt, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon onion salt.

Mix the dry cereal, the pretzel sticks broken in smaller pieces, and the salted peanuts in a pan. Heat butter or margarine until melted; stir in the Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Pour over the cereals and mix well. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) stirring every 10 minutes or so, for about a half hour or until lightly browned. One cup of oven-toasted rice cereal may be added to the ingredients if desired.

Cool before serving. Store in airtight container.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cereal snack-mix with tomato juice, barbecued beef slices in buns, mixed relishes, potato chips, lemon chiffon tarts in cereal flake crust, coffee, tea, milk.

Tired Arm

Cleveland (AP)—After almost 50 years, the long arm of the law finally tired of reaching for three men who jumped bond and disappeared after being indicted on murder charges. At the request of the county prosecutor, who admitted the state has quit searching for the trio, Common Pleas Judge Daniel H. Wasserman dismissed the indictments.

The three fugitives are: Peter Kiernan, indicted Dec. 8, 1907, for the murder of William Meher; Tony Annibali, indicted Jan. 6, 1908, for the murder of Isazio Lupica, and Philippi Capone, indicted Jan. 6, 1909, for the murder of Joseph Tusso.

Lagging in Atom Power

New York, June 25 (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today the United States is "lagging badly" in the development of atomic power. "Almost every one of the reactors we are building is behind schedule," said Jackson. "Costs have far exceeded estimates. Safety problems remain unsolved. We must now admit that the road to economic power from the atom is long, rocky and costly." Jackson's remarks were prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Public Power Assn. The association and its affiliated groups represent more than 800 publicly owned electric utilities in 40 states, Puerto Rico and Alaska. Jackson, a member of the congressional joint committee on atomic energy, said Congress should authorize the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to build large atomic power plants.

Half-Year Car Plates Will Be Issued June 28

Motorists who plan to secure a half year license plate, paying half the usual fee, will get a break this year. Half fee plates will be issued beginning Friday, June 28, at Motor Vehicle Bureau offices. Usually it is necessary to wait until July 1 to register a vehicle for the half fee. Under Section 11 of the Motor Vehicle and Traffic law, when July first falls on either a Saturday, Sunday or Monday, the half year registrations may be issued on the preceding Friday. This is the case this year.

However, registrations may not be issued unless insurance certificates are dated, June 28 or prior. In case an insurance agent issues the necessary proof of insurance certificate and dates it July 1, it will be impossible to issue a half year registration since the law requires that the insurance be in effect at the time the plates are issued and proof of such insurance coverage accompanies the application. Half fee registrations apply to all motor vehicles except farm vehicles.

Construction Lag Is Drawback

Thruway Is Doing Well Although Receipts Are Below Estimates

(Editors: This is the second in a series of three articles on the record and prospects of the State Thruway, after completing the first three years of toll operations.)

By CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—The State Thruway, beginning its fourth year of toll operations today, has not done as brisk a business as it had expected.

Even so, the cross-state expressway almost managed to break even on its 1956 operations. And it doesn't have to achieve a pay-for-itself status until 1959.

Last year, the first full year that the main New York-Buffalo route was open, the Thruway took in $26,448,313 from all revenue sources, including tolls, sale of annual permits and a percentage of service station and restaurant business.

This was only 94 per cent of the amount estimated in the long-range financial plan adopted by the authority in 1954.

For the first quarter of the year, income was $2,707,155, or 83 per cent of schedule.

Opposite Is True

These figures might make it appear that the Thruway was backsliding. But the opposite seems true. The Thruway Authority says business is fast approaching a level that will put the multi-million-dollar venture on a self-sustaining basis—if it has not achieved that goal already.

What has happened is that delays in construction have thrown the picture slightly out of focus.

When the long-range financial plan was adopted, it was assumed that three of the spurs off the main route—the Erie, New England and Niagara sections—would be opened by Jan. 1 this year. In fact, none has been opened, and the Niagara section will not be completed until late 1959 or early 1960.

Thus the revenue forecasts presumed income from sources that have not been in operation. Adjusting for the factor, first-quarter business this year rose to 97 per cent of estimate and was still climbing.

Thruway fiscal experts say the road could start paying for itself next year even on a 97 per cent basis. They confidentially predict the level will rise to 100 per cent when the full system is opened.

The Thruway almost paid its own way last year, when the superhighway produced all but a half million dollars of the cost of its 1956 operations and of the year's interest charges on outstanding construction bonds.

The Thruway made up the deficit from bond money. It can do this until 1959, when it must begin paying on the principal as well as the interest.

Disappointed on Trucks

Besides construction delays, a

To Open Bids Thursday On State Thruway Jobs

Bids will be opened Thursday at 2 p. m. at the State Office Building, Albany on proposed work on the Thruway section maintenance building at Kingston, it was announced today by John W. Johnson, state superintendent of Public Works.

The work proposed is installation of emergency generators and allied work for the maintenance building.

The bid proposal in Kingston is one of 11 projects for construction, repairs and alterations to various state-owned facilities.

DIDN'T EXERCISE CAUTION—A truck driver delivering a full load of dirt, and apparently paying too little attention to the warning sign, provides some welcome entertainment for the youngsters at Grant School, in Casper, Wyo. The driver, unaware that the ground had been softened by several days of light rain, got too close to the edge of an excavation and his dump truck got dumped into an open trench.

major disappointment thus far has been the reluctance of truckers to take to the road in numbers anticipated. Fiscal seers counted on commercial traffic supplying more than 50 per cent of the toll revenue.

In 1954, when only a portion of the main route was open, truckers contributed 47 per cent of the tolls. This slumped to 31 per cent in 1955 but climbed to 40 per cent last year.

The Authority says the proportion will continue to rise as more truckers become convinced that they can save money by using the superhighway. The agency has a full-time representative on the road trying to persuade them.

A big selling point has been the Thruway's low accident rate. Truckers can save on insurance charges by maintaining a good safety record.

Since toll operations began three years ago yesterday, 82 persons had been killed in Thruway accidents. The death rate per 100 million miles was 2.68 last year and was 2.7 per cent so far this year. These figures are well below the 1956 average for other roads in the state, 5.1 per cent, and far under the national average, 6.4.

Last year's fatality averages on the Garden State Parkway and the Ohio Turnpike were 1.3 and 1.91 respectively.

The Thruway shows better in comparison with longer expressways, such as the New Jersey Turnpike (2.34 last year) and the Pennsylvania Turnpike 4.6. (Tomorrow: Outlook for the future.)

Porter Is Held

New York, June 25 (AP)—An embarrassing mystery at Brooklyn police headquarters was solved yesterday. For eight months a thief had been stealing paychecks from under the noses of detectives and patrolmen. The thefts totalled $835. Finally, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy's own special squad moved in. Yesterday headquarters announced the arrest of a civilian porter, John Russo of (612 5th avenue) Brooklyn, who had worked at the headquarters for four years, was charged with forgery and grand larceny. Police quoted him as saying he lost the money on horses.

Two Men Die in Fire

Dallas, June 25 (AP)—Two aged men died today in a 3-alarm fire that gutted a two-story frame rooming house here. An elderly woman was critically burned, but eight other residents escaped, firemen said. One victim was identified as C. D. [Name obscured]. His blind wife, also in her 80's, was critically burned. They were trapped in their upstairs apartment. The other victim was identified as James Miller, also believed to be in his 80's.

Five Children Drown

Cagliari, Sardinia, June 25 (AP)—Five children drowned yesterday when the tide swept them out to sea off the southeast coast of this Mediterranean island. Artorio Poltsin, 42, who accompanied the 20 children in the swimming party, drowned while trying to save the youngsters.

American Girl Tours Europe; Becomes Wife of Consul General in Hong Kong

Any girl can see the world, meet fascinating men on every continent and make her life a fairy tale come true—if she just wants it enough.

The authority for this happy statement is a small town girl who started life as Florence Teets, of Milledgeville, Ill., and now is the wife of E. F. Drumright, of Drumright, Okla., currently U. S. consul general in Hong Kong.

Even now, when she is an international hostess entertaining ambassadors, princes and potentates practically every night at dinner, Florence has the scrubbed pink cheeks, slicked-back blonde hair and excited blue eyes that always will mark her as a wide-eyed American tourist. She loves to go places. Her goal since childhood has been to see every corner of the earth. And as now, she has just about done it.

I first met Florence about 10 years ago, when both of us were making our first trip to Europe. It was a weekend flight to England, inaugurating Pan American's two-decker stratocruisers. Florence worked for Boeing Aircraft, who made the planes. During our two days in London, Florence never had time to go to bed, she was so busy seeing the sights, and as soon as she got back to New York she quit her job and became a travel writer.

Writing travel books and doing tourist pamphlets for Pan American, she managed to hit most of the far corners of the earth. In 1955 she was halfway through a round-the-world trip, doing a book on marriages in all countries, when she met a tall, gangling career diplomat from Oklahoma, at a chief-of-missions conference in the Philippines.

"We met in the Philippines, courted in Hong Kong and were married in Tokyo," says Florence. "It all took about two weeks. After all, I was doing a book on international marriage, and I took my work seriously. After the Philippine meeting I went to Hong Kong and stopped at the American consulate to collect my mail. I also got my mail."

After a honeymoon in Japan, Florence got back to Hong Kong just in time to make her first official appearance as the No. 1 American hostess of the region, at the consulate's Fourth of July party. Says she:

"I guess it was as good a way as any of breaking me in. When you're having a party for a thousand people and only two days to get ready, you just do the best you can. I guess it was good enough. Everybody had a wonderful time, and from then on nothing surprised me."

"When my husband calls me at 5 p. m. and says, 'we are going to have 80 for dinner,' I take it in stride. After all, at my first black-tie dinner in Hong Kong, a couple of days after my Fourth of July debut, the guests included two ambassadors and Perle Mesta. What more could a hostess face?"

Florence's home now is the American residence in Hong Kong, high up on Victoria peak, overlooking the harbor on one side and the bay on the other. Her household staff consists of a No. 1 and a No. 2 boy, a cook and an amah, who does the laundry. Says she:

"There were a lot more servants when I got there, but I didn't think we needed so many. After all, I had been an American taxpayer for a long time, and it always has pained me to waste money. So I cut down. We got along fine with a staff of four, and call in extras for big parties. But for an ordinary dinner for 80, which happens almost every week, we make out."

Peace of World Rests With Young America, Says Ambassador Chester Bowles at Bard

The peace of the world rests with young America, according to Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and United States ambassador to India and Nepal.

In a weekend commencement address at Bard College, where he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Mr. Bowles declared that young men and women of this country have at their disposal the resources and ideas with which to meet the challenge of preserving the peace.

He warned the 41 graduating seniors gathered for commencement exercises that "the Soviet strategy is clear—to extend the Kremlin's influence to the underdeveloped world; to shut off European industries from essential raw materials and ultimately to isolate the United States itself."

Faced with this danger, young citizens must work, he said, for practical and effective answers to these vital questions—How can we keep the peace? How can we create new bridges of cooperation and understanding at least with non-Communist peoples of the world?

Lacking a solution to these problems, he feared that America will be "destined through our insensitivity to the views of others and by our tight military focus even on questions which are basically political and economic, to see an increasing gap develop between ourselves and most of the rest of humanity."

The Ambassador confessed to the graduates that "many members of my generation are impressed with what they describe as the 'apathy' of your generation on public questions," but admitted that young people have a right to answer. "Why shouldn't we be apathetic; what is either political party giving us at the moment to get excited about?"

"I will not attempt to argue the case for my generation," Mr. Bowles stated. "But, at least we have demonstrated to those who will follow us the utter futility of war and the fatal destiny of Communism."

No one, he said, has taken these truths more to heart than the youngsters of the world. He cited the rebellions in Hungary and Poland, where young men and women, schooled in Communist ideology, "burst triumphantly through the haze of totalitarian propaganda with a full-blown spirit of liberty and freedom. It will be a long time," he predicted, "before the Communist world recovers from that impact."

The basis for belief in young people as the hope for peace is their interest in the same ideal—a better world, Mr. Bowles declared.

In his travels, when he met literally thousands of students of all nations, Mr. Bowles was "impressed, not with the differences between them and Americans, but with the similarities, and with the common understanding which they have of the great questions that must soon be faced and answered throughout the world."

Among these questions are disarmament, civil liberties and, most significant, "the increasing strain on our education system which requires the efforts of dedicated citizens at every political level, who understand the need and are prepared to do something about it."

Despite the aura of public apathy, frustration, cynicism and confusion surrounding the present generation, Mr. Bowles held out faith in young citizens and hope for the future. "America has known such periods before," he declared, "and like the others this will prove to be a passing phase."

In bestowing an honorary degree upon Mr. Bowles, President James H. Case cited the Ambassador for "a record (of success) not readily equalled in variety or notability . . . and for a quality that, if it partially explains your success, dwarfs them all: your profound understanding of people. Happily," Mr. Case added, "this gift is not employed in furthering a brilliant career, so much as in making a better world—a cause to which your contributions are significant, and God willing, lasting."

Four other honorary degrees were awarded to leaders in the fields of theology, government and education. They were received by The Right Reverend Horace W. B. Donegan, Bishop of New York, who was named Doctor of Divinity; Dr. Henri M. Peyre, Sterling Professor of French at Yale University, Doctor of Letters; Dr. Frank M. Snowden Jr., Dean of Howard University, Doctor of Laws, and Dr. William Frauenthal, Professor of Modern Languages at Bard College, Doctor of Humane Letters.

'Hatful of Rain' Scheduled for July 2 As Season Opener for Woodstock Playhouse

"A Hatful of Rain" by Michael Gazzo will be the first play of the Woodstock Playhouse 1957 season. It will open on Tuesday, July 2—July 7 and will be under the direction of Cy Simon, who did such an excellent job last year.

The play which opened on Broadway, Nov. 9, 1955 and ran for 398 performances is a story of a decent family trapped in a nearly unsolvable problem, and their valiant attempt to escape. Tom Troupe will have the starring role in this terrifying trap and Betty Lou Robinson will portray the gallant wife who is trying to preserve her home and save her husband. Carlton Colyer will be cast as his compassionate brother while Sy Kalan will play the obtuse father.

Of his "A Hatful of Rain," the author says: "The theme of my play is rootlessness. Two of my central figures are brothers who were farmed out to various foster homes when they were children, by a father who didn't know how to make a home for them . . . I had seen in the years right after World War 2 the disintegration of a number of young men. Some had become addicted to alcohol, some to drugs, and some to mere brooding—in all cases they were made unproductive to themselves and to society, and needed more money than most young men while being able to earn less, so they turned to crime and violence . . . I've tried to put all of this into "A Hatful of Rain."

Tom Troupe, who plays Johnny Pope, is a familiar figure to television viewers from coast to coast, having appeared in numerous productions, such as the Goodyear Playhouse, Kaiser Aluminum Hour, Studio One, Kraft, Omnibus, Robert Montgomery. This past year he has been on Five internationally renowned conductors will lead the Symphony of the Air in operas, ballets, music-dramas and concerts at the Empire State Music Festival in Ellenville, N. Y., commencing July 4. Season's highlights include the operas "Elektra" and "Madama Butterfly," the dance-drama "Emperor Jones," the Royal Danish Ballet and the Eastern United States premiere of Stravinsky's "Canticum Sacrum," conducted by Leopold Stokowski.

Empire State Music Festival Opens
Third Season in Ellenville July 4

The curtain rings up Thursday evening, July 4, on the third season of the Empire State Music Festival, Ellenville with the internationally renowned maestro, Igor Markevitch, conducting the Symphony of the Air in Beethoven's Ninth Symphony and Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody."

The advance sale indicates a capacity audience both in the colorful tent-theatre that lies atop a range of the Shawangunk Mountains of the Catskills, and in the seats outside the tent that reach outward to the slope of a forested ridge. Dignitaries of city, state and county, many from New York, will attend the concert.

The Festival has thus far drawn an approximate audience of more than 60,000 each season and it is hoped this year to attract over 75,000 music lovers, Frank Forest, the fete's general manager, reports the biggest advance sale since the music center opened in 1955.

"We have reservations not only from cities several hundred miles away, but some from as far as California, Florida, Cuba and Western Canada," states Impresario Forest. "Every indication points to our most successful season to date."

The American Concert Choir, one of the country's foremost choral groups, which is under the direction of Margaret Hillis, will highlight the presentation of Beethoven's Ninth. Augmenting the chorus, and personally trained by Miss Hillis, will be the Shawangunk Choralists to make a choir of eighty voices in all. The featured soloists will be Uta Graf, soprano, Maureen Forrester, contralto, Rudolf Petrak, tenor, and Norman Scott, bass. Soloist for the Brahms composition will be Miss Forrester. This entire program will be repeated on Sunday afternoon, July 7.

The dance soloists are Inge Sand, Kirsten Ralow, Ruth Andersen, Kirsten Petersen, Fredbjorn Bjornsson, Stanley Williams, Verner Andersen and Ole Fatum. The artistic direction is credited to Robert Zeller, who is also the conductor, and Inge Sand.

The festival will run for four weeks, terminating with a symphony concert on Sunday afternoon, July 28. Features of the season include a production of Richard Strauss' "Elektra" under the baton of Laszlo Halasz, July 11, 13 and 19; the Heitor Villa-Lobos-Jose Limon dance drama, "Emperor Jones," based on O'Neill's great play, July 12 and 14; the Eastern United States premiere of Stravinsky's "Canticum Sacrum," and Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana," with Leopold Stokowski on the podium, scheduled for July 18 and 20, and the opera "Madama Butterfly," with Fausto Cleve conducting, and Elaine Malbin starred, July 25 and 27.

repeated on Sunday afternoon, July 7.

Soloists of the Royal Danish Ballet take over the festival stage for the balance of the inaugural week. They will be seen in three varied dance bills on Friday evening, July 5, Saturday evening, July 6, and Sunday evening, July 7. A feature of the ballet's visit to the United States at this time will be the American premiere here of a new work by one of the group's leading dancers, Fredbjorn Bjornsson. It is called "Bergensiana" and it had its world premiere in Oslo on June 10, where it received an enthusiastic critical reception. Johan Halvorsen provided the score and the costumes are by Bjorn Winblad, a leading contemporary artist. "Bergensiana" will be seen at the festival on both Saturday and Sunday evenings, July 6 and 7.

An all Tchaikovsky program will be presented Friday night, July 5, which will include "Swan Lake," "The Blue Birds," "Aurora's Wedding" and "Design With Strings." Saturday night's bill includes "Napoli," "Pierrot and Pierrette," "Flower Festival" and excerpts from "Coppelia." With a slight variation, Saturday night's offerings will be repeated on Sunday night.

The dance soloists are Inge Sand, Kirsten Ralow, Ruth Andersen, Kirsten Petersen, Fredbjorn Bjornsson, Stanley Williams, Verner Andersen and Ole Fatum. The artistic direction is credited to Robert Zeller, who is also the conductor, and Inge Sand.

The festival will run for four weeks, terminating with a symphony concert on Sunday afternoon, July 28. Our front lawn measures 90 feet. Each time I cut the grass I'm beat! Said I, "Dear wife, I'm getting smart. This lawn-mower and I must part. I'll buy a power-driven one before I perish in the sun." My wife said, "If you'd sharpen ours, you'd magnify its cutting powers." But I replied, "Don't be so cheap. I want one that will mow and reap! One you can fill with good old gas: No shove, no push, to cut the grass." I bought one at the hardware store. (Good Gosh! You should have heard it roar!) I shoved the lever in "Go"—thinking that it would start off slow. My good wife cried, "Look out, my dear!" And I went sprawling on my ear! Then, as I lay there like a clown, it circled—and near ran me down! A power-mower may be fine. But, somehow, it's not in my line. Tongue Attends Albany Meeting On Court Report

Deputy County Clerk Ward B. Tongue attended a meeting Monday afternoon at Albany, called by the Judicial Conference, Third Judicial Department, to discuss the new uniform reporting system which will become effective July 1. The meeting was called by William France, deputy administrator of the Third Judicial Department.

The meeting was called for the purpose of conference on procedure in reporting court work to the conference which has its office in New York city. As of July 1 the old method will be done away with and much of the voluminous work will be eliminated through adoption of a IBM system of card reporting which will be uniform in all counties of the state. It will relieve the county clerks of much of the detailed work necessary under the old system.

A monthly report is made to the Judicial Conference of work done by the court during the month, giving a daily report of the work of the judge and the work accomplished, cases disposed of and other data necessary in making future recommendations to the legislature on judicial procedure.

Denies 145 MPH Speed

Hollywood, June 25 (AP)—Jackie Cooper denies that he ran the tires off two highway patrol cars while speeding 145 MPH in his German-made sports car. The actor, stopped Saturday at a roadblock about three miles north of the desert community of Mojave, was cited for reckless driving and speeding. Cooper said yesterday that while driving back to Hollywood with John, 10, from a fishing trip near Bishop he may have been about 100 MPH on an open stretch of the road.

Contract Action Off Till June 27

An action on contract was taken up for trial in County Court Monday and was recessed over to Thursday when it will be continued. The action is brought by Hazel Ellsworth against Prudential Insurance Company of America to recover double indemnity on two $500 policies.

Testimony indicated her husband died after taking alcohol from a pint bottle which contained oil of wintergreen. It is alleged the bottle was not marked and therefore his death was accidental and under the double indemnity provisions of the policies double recovery should be paid on the theory of accidental death.

John J. Schick appears for the plaintiff and Francis X. Tucker of Cook and Cook for defendant.

Game Makes Either Way

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand, taken from the recent Long Island championships, was shown yesterday. Roger Wells of Bayside sitting South bid and made four hearts for a North-South top score. At the next table Jack Colman of New York city sitting West made five clubs doubled for an East-West top score.

The bidding was the same as yesterday's up to the point when South bid four hearts. Jack decided to double this contract and I can't blame him. His partner took the double out to five clubs and I can't blame him either. It looked as if his hand would be a hindrance to the defense and he knew that five clubs could not be hurt.

If North had led a diamond, Jack would have gone down automatically, but no one can possibly blame North for leading the king of hearts.

Jack ruffed in dummy and noted immediately that he had to do something about his losing diamond and do it quickly. He led a low spade from dummy and went up with the king. North won with the ace and led a diamond but the boat had left without him.

Jack won with his ace, led his remaining spade and finessed dummy's ten. This play risked a two-trick set in case South had the spade jack but there is not much difference between minus 500 and minus 200 in match point duplicate and there is a lot of difference between minus 200 and plus 750.

The ten of spades held and Jack discarded his losing diamond on the queen and made his contract.

American Legion Rally Overhauls Kiwanis, 5-4

American Legion became the winning team in the Babe Ruth League on the strength of a breathtaking 5-4 comeback victory over the Kiwanis yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

The Legionnaires rallied in sensational fashion for three runs in the last of the seventh to snatch the decision and post their third straight win. Kiwanis suffered its first setback and tumbled into second place in the American Division behind the Legion.

Bill Murphy, who tossed a no-hitter in his only other start, throttled the Legion through four innings to extend his runless and hitless streak to 13 frames. But in the fifth, the Legionnaires, trailing 2-0, began the long haul back with a run and finally chased Murphy in the sixth with another marker to make it 3-2. Solid hits by Jimmy Rua and Ivan Gavin kayoed Murphy and brought on Hobie Armstrong.

Hobie, the jack of all trades, quelled the uprising, but was in turn lifted in the final stanza when he ran into a streak of wildness. But before Armstrong took the hill in the seventh the Kiwanians got back the tally the Legion netted in the previous inning for a 4-2 cushion.

Armstrong passed the first three batters up in the seventh which opened the door. Billy Huber was then summoned after Hobie had served three more wide ones to the next man. Huber finished walking the batter to force in the run, and the margin was cut to 4-3.

Spada's Hit Wins
Joe Uhl's fielder's choice knotted the count and set things up for pitcher Mike Spada's clutch hit which won the game.

Spada granted just four hits, but three of them were gotten by Armstrong. One was a sliced triple down the right field line in the first which helped get the Kiwanis on top 2-0. Spada, a righthander, struck out 11 and walked four and gave up a double to Huber.

The Legion also garnered four hits—single, Murphy whiffed four and walked one before being taken off the hook. Armstrong was charged with the loss.

TONIGHT—VFW vs. Vols, 6 p. m.

WEDNESDAY—Rotary vs. KPA, 6 p. m.; Elks vs. K of C, 8:45.

SMILES AMID BAD NEWS—International Boxing Club president James Norris, right, whose club had been ordered dissolved by Federal judge's ruling earlier in the day, chats with welterweight champ Carmen Basilio at IBC office in New York city (June 24). Basilio was in town to sign for his title bout with middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson, but Ray's insistence on 45 per cent of the gate drew a "no progress" report. (AP Wirephoto)

Boxing Monopoly Cracked

Judge Ryan Dissolves Norris' Fistic Empire

Promoter Must Sever All Garden Holdings

New York, June 25 (AP)—The International Boxing Club that has dominated pro boxing since 1949 has been ordered dissolved by a federal judge who also has ordered Jim Norris and Arthur Wirtz to sever their connection with Madison Square Garden.

Although it had been anticipated that Norris and Wirtz would appeal an adverse ruling, no decision had been made today by their legal counsel.

If an appeal is made of the decree by Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, it presumably would go to the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York and, perhaps, eventually to the U. S. Supreme Court. The legal history of the case dates back to 1954 when it was ruled out by the District Court on the grounds of lack of jurisdiction. Following an appeal by the government, the Supreme Court ruled that the anti-trust case against the IBC should go to trial. After the trial last year Judge Ryan found the defendants guilty, March 8, and set yesterday for his final decree, effective July 1.

Next Move Uncertain

"We will have to go over it with counsel to see what our next step will be," said Norris, president of the IBC and a director of the Garden and Chicago Stadium. He indicated that, whatever the advice might be, "I intend to stay in boxing."

All exclusive contracts with champions and challengers were declared void by Judge Ryan, as were all exclusive contracts with stadia, other than those owned by Norris and Wirtz.

The order dissolves the IBC of New York and Chicago.

Judge Ryan referred to his decision of March 8 when he found the defendants guilty of conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade in the promotion of championship boxing contests and of conspiracy to monopolize trade and commerce in the same field, in violation of the Sherman Act.

Outlines Dissolution

The judge outlined the course to be followed:

1. A complete divestiture of the stockholdings of Norris and Wirtz in the Garden, including all the stock they own individually or control through other entities.
2. An injunction barring Norris and Wirtz from holding any office or directorship in the Garden.
3. Resignation of Norris and Wirtz, within 30 days after entry of final judgment, as officers and directors of Madison Square Garden.
4. An injunction against Norris and Wirtz voting by proxy or otherwise any stock at any meeting of the Garden Corporation stockholders.
5. The compulsory transfer of all their Garden stockholdings direct and indirect to a trustee to be named by the court.

Troccole Leads State Tennis

Mamaroneck, June 25 (AP)—

Top-seeded Isabel Troccole of New York led the favorites into the third round as the New York State Women's tennis championships got under way yesterday.

Miss Troccole drew a bye in the first round, then defeated Mrs. Drusilla Barber of Great Neck, 6-2, 6-0.

Joan Corvino, who lost in the final last year, ousted Mrs. Carolyn Nelson of Scarsdale, 6-2, 6-1. The East Orange, N. J., player is seeded No. 6.

Second-seeded Pat Stewart of Kew Gardens did not get into action, but third-ranked Carole Wright of Brooklyn turned back Mrs. Jesse Krieger of Scarsdale, 6-1, 6-0.

Stirnweiss Is Ill

George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss, 40-year-old former New York Yankee infielder, was stricken yesterday at the bank where he works and taken to Roosevelt Hospital. Police said they were told Stirnweiss had suffered a heart attack, but the ex-Yankee himself denied it.

National LL Playoffs Set

The second round will start Monday as scheduled.

Miron Lumber Boosts City Softball Lead

Ten-Run Fourth Stops Wimpy's Grill, 14 to 7

Miron Lumber boosted its City Softball League lead to a game and a half yesterday, trouncing Wimpy's, 14-7, while the runners-up—Chez Emile and Shannon's—went down to defeat.

Prospect Dairy scored twice in the bottom of the seventh to nip Chezzies, 3-2, behind the brilliant three-hit pitching of Joe Venuti.

Pat & George's were limited to one hit by Lindsay but it was a two-run double by Tom Murphy to shade Shannon's Grill, 2-1, as Frank Passante pitched a three-hitter. The big blow came in the fifth inning and moved P&G into second place. Frank Boyce twirled a nifty three-hitter against the hard hitting Subway Grill lineup to give Hilltop Rest a 9-0 victory.

College Ace Clicks in Debut

By The Associated Press
Ed Drapcho, All-America left-hander from Penn State, took his first scalp for the Reading Indians last night.

Drapcho, in his debut in the Eastern League and in organized baseball, defeated invading Springfield 3-2 with a 9-hitter.

At Albany, Senator pitchers Joe Albanese and Bill Slack blanked the league-leading Schenectady Blue Jays, 7-0.

Syracuse and Binghamton were idle.

The Indians got just enough tallies from Les Mattinson's two-run homer in the second inning and Arlan Barber's single that knocked in one run in the fifth.

ULL Yanks Nip Giants

Yanks dealt Giants pennant aspirations in first half play a lethal blow in Town of Ulster Little League by scoring 8-7 victory yesterday.

Small Schools Finally Snap Jinx in Wyoming

Laramie, Wyo. (AP)—May be Wyoming's small high schools have finally cracked the monopoly which four Class AA schools held on the state high school basketball championship for 22 years.

Between 1930 and 1953, Cheyenne won 10 state crowns, Rock Springs 6, Casper 4 and Laramie 2. In the past four years, two small schools have won the state championship—Thermopolis in 1954 and Cody this year.

Opposition Due From Korea Reds

Seoul, June 25 (AP)—Communist North Korea is expected to challenge the UN Command decision to bring new weapons into Korea at a meeting tomorrow of the Joint Military Armistice Commission.

North Korea yesterday requested the meeting of UN and Communist delegates.

Allied observers said they expected the Reds to propose a renewal of the neutral nation truce inspections that were suspended a year ago or call for a political conference to settle the Korean issue.

North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung on Saturday urged a political conference of all nations "interested in the Korean problem."

It was believed the Communists might make some concessions if it would enable them to get truce inspections friendly to them into South Korea again. The inspection teams were pulled out of both South and North Korea last June after the UN Command charged the Communists were using them to cover up the military buildup in the north.

The UN Command announced at a joint commission meeting last Friday that it no longer considered itself bound by provisions of the armistice agreement barring introduction of new weapons. The UN said it would bring modern arms into South Korea because the Communists had long ignored the truce ban on weapons.

Milwaukee (AP)—About 10 years ago Harvey Jensen gave a topcoat to a clothing drive conducted by his church for European war victims. Jensen put a note with his name and address in the pocket. Now, an answer has arrived from Warsaw, Poland. The writer's name was not available, but he told Jensen: "I did not write till now because our situation politic forbidden correspondence with America. After 'October 1956' followed in Poland changes. Advantageous changes! And now I can write at last. . . I should want to receive a letter from you, Mr. Jensen. I will be grateful. BEE CAREFUL—Risking a bite to remember, Charles Yoder, of Leavenworth, Kan., points to the approximate location of the queen bee amid the swarm of thousands of bees that blanketed the inside of this cigar company truck. Just what it was that attracted the buzzing creatures was undetermined. The bees were later drawn away from the vehicle via some wax in a box which attracted the queen bee and then the rest of the swarm.

CHECKUP IN DETAIL—Dummy pilot in ejection seat is fascinating attraction for Swiss youngsters at Berne exhibit. The dummy is equipped for high altitude supersonic flying.

PARTY LINE—The man in the moon will be a member of a 500,000-mile "party line" pretty soon. The "line" takes in Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Urbana-Champaign, Ill.—and the moon. Scientists at the University of Illinois and the Army Signal Corps will transmit signals from the Evans Signal Laboratory near Ft. Monmouth and bounce them off the moon for reception at the university. The 2½-second journey will end at the dish-shaped aluminum mesh reflector (insert), which is 28 feet in diameter. The experiments will be conducted in the daytime, as the moon is in the sky for many day hours. The experiments may pave the way for sending radio and television signals to half the earth at one time by bouncing them off the moon so the return impulses can be received in the Eastern hemisphere. The first "moon-bouncing" experiments were made in 1946.
